CENSUS OFFICE JOB STARTS BIG FIGHT

Republicans Block Appointment of W. J. Harris to Succeed Durand

DEBATE LASTS FIVE HOURS

Strongest Opposition in Years Manifested—Long Contest Has Just Begun

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senate Republicans began their first big fight on President Wilson's nominations tonight when the appointment of W. J. Harris of Georgia, as director of the census, succeeding E. Dana Durand, was taken up in executive session. For nearly five hours the senate played at cross purposes on the Harris nomination without even entering into a discussion of the merits of the case.

The Republicans forced roll call after roll call on questions of procedure and in support of tactics which the Democrats termed dilatory. Motions to put the nomination over until tomorrow, until Friday and until next week were put and defeated and finally when the membership on both sides had dwindled away to almost nothing, adjournment was taken until tomorrow at noon with the Harris nomination still just where it was when the doors were closed shortly before 4 o'clock.

No Limit on Filibuster.

Republican leaders have served notice that they expect to keep up the fight against the confirmation of Harris until July 1 at least, when Mr. Durand has announced his intention to quit. Under the senate rules there is no question of their ability to filibuster to their hearts' content, and if they are willing to go into long executive sessions day after day they can prevent confirmation as long as their talking powers last.

In the debate tonight an unsuccessful attempt was made to invoke the famous "Reed" rule by which members present in the chamber but not voting were counted in an attempt to disclose a quorum. This brought forth speeches and before the session ended most of the Democrats and a large part of the Republicans had spoken, although none upon the nomination itself.

Propose Exhaustive Review.

A minority report against Harris was filed by Senator Townsend, and Senators La Follette and Cummins, also of the census committee. Senator Burton and other Republicans were interested in the case. Senator Burton declared after the debate had been proceeding several hours that he was willing to review the history of the census from the present day to the time of Babylon before he would see Harris confirmed. Mr. Burton was strongly of the opinion that Mr. Durand should have been allowed to serve out his term.

The Republican fight centers largely on the contention that offices requiring technical knowledge or scientific attainments should not be given as political rewards, but that qualification and experience should be the only yard stick.

While no charges have been made against Mr. Harris, the Republicans claimed that he was not so well qualified by experience, at least, to hold the office, as was Mr. Durand. Mr. Harris was chairman of the Democratic state executive committee of Georgia in the last campaign and is known as an original Wilson man. His appointment was one of the early ones to important offices sent in by President Wilson.

Strongest Opposition in Years.

Republicans on the census committee served notice almost immediately after the appointment that they expected to fight his confirmation. Efforts were made by Democrats who wished to smooth out the difficulties to have Mr. Durand retained in office until July 1, but at a meeting of the committee 10 days ago the nomination was ordered reported by a majority

Child Dies From Burns; Jumped in Hot Cinder Pile

Burns received about 6 o'clock Monday evening, when he jumped into a pile of hot cinders and ashes in the Rock Island cut, at the north end of the city, between Cascade avenue and Tejon street, caused the death of 6-year-old Louis DeMarco at 10 o'clock last night at Glockner sanatorium.

The boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeMarco, 2607 North Cascade avenue, and his father works at the coal mines north of the city. The lad was playing in the cut Monday evening, saw something that he wanted in the pile of cinders and ashes, and jumped in after it. He was burned severely about the legs and even up above the hips. His parents did all they could for him, but at first did not realize how seriously he was hurt. They summoned a physician at noon yesterday, however, and he ordered the boy taken at once to the hospital.

STATE COUNCIL IS IN SESSION

JR. O. U. A. M. HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING HERE

[illegible]uet Last Evening—Offi[illegible] Today—Work for N[illegible]nal Gathering

The twentieth annual session of the state council of Colorado, Junior Order United American Mechanics, was begun at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning at 11 o'clock for a two days' meeting. Mayor McKesson opened the meeting with an address of welcome on behalf of the city, and was followed by Attorney W. B. Price, past councilor of Duquesne council No. 12. Fifty delegates from different parts of the state were present.

State Councilor C. W. Varnum of Denver called the convention to order and responded to the address of welcome by Mayor McKesson. The remainder of the morning session was taken up with roll call and other routine matters.

Work was resumed immediately after dinner, and the following committees were appointed:

Press—William L. Spencer, O. E. Rickerson and Fred Parkhill, all of this city.

For the Good of the Order—James F. Morrow, D. L. Cox, H. G. Spencer.

Reports were read by the state councilor, C. W. Varnum, Denver; state vice councilor, M. W. Mullen, Colorado Springs, and state council secretary, B. A. Crossman, Pueblo.

A large part of the afternoon was devoted to the discussion of the work planned in the state this year. Several of the delegates took part in the discussions. H. H. Eddy of Denver, author of the present ritual of the order, was in attendance at the meeting and made a most interesting address.

Last night at 6:15 o'clock a five-course banquet was served at the Acacia hotel in honor of the visiting delegates, between 150 and 175 plates being spread. On account of the inability of Judge Little to be in attendance, H. H. Eddy of Denver acted as toastmaster. Mayor McKesson responded and he was followed by Councilor Varnum, Carlos M. Cole, superintendent of schools, and Principal R. C. Hill, in their responses, paid a glowing tribute to the order for the great interest it takes in school affairs throughout the country. Judge Henry, A. W. Henderson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Wilbur F. Cannon and ~~R.~~ A. Crossman also made short talks. Mayor McKesson and Secretary Henderson told the members that if they bring the next national meeting of the council to Colo-

HILL TELLS U. S. HOW TO IRRIGATE

Says Government Projects Are Too Expensive—Makes Appeal for Settlers

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Basing his statement as to the high cost of reclamation work on a report of the census bureau, James J. Hill told Secretary Lane at the reclamation hearing today that it was double the price paid by a private company.

Director Newell of the reclamation service and Senator Walsh of Montana questioned him about having personal knowledge of the reclamation service work.

"I never built an inch of irrigation work in my life," said Mr. Hill, "but I know that when private enterprises in Canada can sell the land and water for $30 an acre, and the water on reclamation projects in the United States cost $45 an acre, that there is some difference in the cost."

Director Newell replied that the government work was more permanent; that private enterprise was prone to take in too large an acreage for the water channel and further, that the government could work only eight hours a day and private enterprises 10.

Hill Appeals for Settlers.

"That is another reason why the government should go out of business," said Mr. Hill. He added that he was "burdened" with complaints by settlers on the Milk river and the St. Mary's project in Canada about the delay for years in pushing the work to completion. To this, Mr. Newell responded that much of the delay had been caused over diplomatic negotiations with Great Britain over water rights.

Mr. Hill concluded with an appeal for help for the settlers and praise for Montana as a land adaptable to reclamation projects.

"You might reduce your freight rate; that would be one way to help them," suggested Mr. Lane.

"If we did so much further, we would have to ask for government credit," replied Mr. Hill.

During his testimony Mr. Hill said reclamation in the west "started in our office."

"Three railroads subscribed $5,000 each and hired a fellow from California named Maxwell, a rapid typewriter, to educate the people about reclamation," he said.

"After three or four years two other roads came in and before long we had them started."

RAILROAD SHOPMEN GET WAGE INCREASE

Agreement Signed in Kansas City, Kan., Affecting 27,000 Men

KANSAS CITY, May 13.—Twenty-seven thousand railroad shopmen will receive increases in wages as a result of agreements ratified by representatives of the Federation of Shop Crafts and the Southern railway and allied railroad companies and the Wabash system headquarters of the federation in Kansas City, Kan., tonight.

The allied companies of the Southern railway are the Mobile & Ohio, Queen and Crescent, New Orleans & Northeastern, Virginia & Southeastern and the Georgia & Florida Southern roads. An increase of two cents an hour was granted to the 6,000 shopmen employed by the Wabash railroad.

It was announced that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad had granted a raise of two cents an hour to its 500 boilermakers.

The federation is trying to obtain uniform rules in all the railway shops of the United States.

DETECTIVES RIDE ON ENGINES TO PROTECT TRAINS AT PATERSON

PATERSON, N. J., May 13.—A city detective rode on the locomotive of every Erie railroad train that entered and left Paterson tonight. Police Chief Bimson took this measure to avert wrecks after three attempts within 72 hours to derail trains. The third endeavor was blocked today by trainmen when two men tried to uncouple the cars of a train that was drawing into the station. The pair escaped.

An attempt to enter a magazine where 20,000 sticks of dynamite are stored was made today by persons unknown to the authorities. Entrance to the building was forced by picks, but concrete walls barred the way to the explosive.

The police have found evidence connecting the attempted train wrecking and the attempt to steal the dynamite with the strike situation in northern New Jersey. Thousands of silk mill operatives and railroad and contract laborers are out in four counties. The silk strikers are organized with the Industrial Workers of the World or the American Federation of Labor, and the railroad and contract workers with the Laborers International union. Railroad property is being guarded and the detectives assigned to locomotives are under orders to keep a careful lookout for obstructions. Several gangs of men found loitering near railroad bridges tonight were dispersed.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS FOR MAY DECREASE

Due to Uncertainty Incident to Tariff Revision, Say Experts

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Government revenues from customs receipts are beginning to show a material decline for May, although heavy importations usually are characteristic of the spring months. Treasury experts, familiar with the temper of the business world in tariff revision periods, declare that the condition is not unusual, as business interests then seem to mark time, holding importations to the lowest limit in order to secure the advantages of prospective lower rates.

Customs receipts for the first 12 days of May amounted to $7,428,728, as compared with $10,768,975 for the corresponding period of 1912, or a decrease of $3,340,697 in twelve days. Despite these figures, the total receipts from customs up to date in the current fiscal year is $12,250,000 greater than for the preceding year, as a result of heavy receipts in the earlier months of the year.

HONOR SYSTEM LOSES; WOMEN STUDENTS WIN

For the second time in the last two years the honor system of examinations was defeated yesterday at Colorado college by vote of the students. Much interest in this phase of the election was taken by the student body, and it was decided that due to the nature of the honor system, a four-fifths majority was needed to pass the measure. The final vote was: For, 172; against, 130.

"Offices for women" won in the voting, the students deciding that the vice president and secretary of the associated students should be women in the future.

The honor system as proposed included a clause whereby students witnessing cheating should report to a committee of students, the latter to fix the penalty. This clause is said to have been the reason for the defeat of the system.

SIMMONS AND PENROSE IN CLASH

Deliver Oratorical Broadsides at Each Other Over Tariff Bill

EXECUTIVE SESSION WINS

Manufacturers Required to Answer 16 Questions in Briefs or in Person

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Penrose, leading the fight to refer the Underwood bill with instructions for public hearings, delivered oratorical broadsides against each other in the senate today in debate on the Penrose amendment which will be resumed tomorrow.

Senator Penrose likened the secret caucus of the house Democrats on the tariff bill to the "methods of the Spanish inquisition," and brought laughter from both sides when he declared no one was present at the caucus to witness the "murder of American industry."

Senator Simmons declared that if the Democratic purpose to eliminate hearings could be called reprehensible, it was the first time the Democratic party had copied the methods of the Republicans, and he argued at length why public hearings were not necessary, averring that they were not even demanded.

Would Vote for Free Lumber.

In the debate, Senator Penrose referred to Senator Simmons' attitude on the lumber schedule four years ago when the Payne-Aldrich bill was under consideration. Senator Simmons answered that the Underwood bill provided for everything he advocated four years ago if lumber was to be placed on the free list. "That being so," he said, "I will vote with pleasure for free lumber."

Senator Bristow offered an amendment to the sugar schedule providing graduated reduction for two three-year periods, at the end of which time refined sugar would be taxed at $1.27½ per hundred pounds and "ninety-six Cuban sugar" at $0.972. When the Kansas senator had concluded an attack on the Democratic bill, Senator La Follette proposed an amendment to the Penrose amendment directing public hearings.

Executive Session Plan Carries.

Senator Bacon then moved that the senate go into executive session. This motion prevailed 48 to 34, Senators La Follette and Works voting with the Democrats. This forced further consideration of the tariff until tomorrow.

Senator La Follette's amendment, which was accepted by Senator Penrose, provides that manufacturers who might appear or file briefs before the finance committee be required to answer under oath 16 questions relating to the commodity they manufacture, the raw materials used, the amount of

EXPECT ATTACK ON MATAMORAS TODAY

Federals Are Routed Above Guaymas and Flee to Gulf Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., May 13.—According to a dispatch filed late tonight by a correspondent of the Brownsville Herald, at Hidalgo, Tex., opposite Rio Bravo, Mexico, where the rebels are encamped, General Lucia Blanco and his band of 350 revolutionists are preparing to march at daybreak, presumably to attack Matamoras, across the border from Brownsville. General Blanco, however, refuses to make known his destination.

Rio Bravo is 37 miles from Matamoras.

Anticipating an attack tomorrow, barricades of sand bags are being thrown up around Matamoras tonight.

Two Mexicans, who crossed from Rio Bravo today reported that John B. Alamia, an American, had been hanged by the rebels. Their story, however, is given little credence as Alamia was regarded as a rebel sympathizer. It is also reported that General Blanco caused two of his men to be hanged for looting.

Didn't Like American Grub.

EL PASO, Tex., May 13.—More than 200 Mexican federal soldiers, being held prisoners at Fort Bliss, Tex., came near employing suffragette starvation tactics, spurning the same food allowed the American soldiers on border patrol. When served roast beef, potatoes and gravy, and even pie, they declared that the edibles were not "good enough."

Baffled by the complaints of the prisoners, the commanding officers at Fort Bliss today purchased some black Mexican beans, known as "frijoles," which were distributed instead of the regular rations. The prisoners accepted the alternative eagerly, and declared that the food could not be improved. Some of the Mexican officers explained that the men never before had eaten regular table fare.

Federals Are Routed.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 13.—The federals have been completely routed and all are fleeing toward the gulf, reported Governor Pesqueira of Sonora, who arrived today at Hermosillo from the front above Guaymas. He stated that the state had captured 200 rifles and 3,000 rounds of ammunition. Another report from the front says that seven cannon and seven machine guns also have been captured. Estimates of the killed remain at about 500, with 300 taken prisoner.

Confusion is so great below the state base at Ortiz, to which point the telegraph is operating, that only meager details of the happenings about Guaymas can be obtained. A strong detachment of federals under Colonel Barron is reported cut off from retreat, and besieged in the hills by the insurgents under Colonel Hill. Barron was wounded.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES EXPELLED FROM ALBANIA

BOSTON, May 13.—The board of commissioners for foreign missions received today a cable dispatch from the United States consul at Saloniki, saying the American missionaries, Rev. P. B. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy, had been expelled from their station in Kertcha, southern Albania, by Greeks, and now are in Saloniki.

BULGARIANS LOST 30,041 MEN IN WAR

LONDON, May 14—(Wednesday).—An international naval force will occupy Scutari today, and the Montenegrins then will begin the evacuation of the town.

Official figures of the Bulgarian losses in the war, published at Sofia yesterday, give the following estimates:

Killed, 330 officers and 29,711 men; wounded, 950 officers and 52,550 men; missing, 3,193.

A conference of the Austrian and Hungarian ministers will be held today to arrange for further demobilization, now that Balkan peace is assured.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS DEPT. TO HAVE SUMMER CAMP SOON

For the first time in four years, the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. is to have a big boys' camp from June 9 to 18, this season. This will give an exceptional chance to the boys of Colorado Springs, between the ages of 10 and 20, to get into the mountains for 10 days in June, where there will be fine fishing and bathing and all the fun and profit that comes to every fellow who attends a well-organized camp.

The plans being made are to secure the very best of leadership and put the entire camp under a careful organization, so that every boy who goes will not only have the time of his life and be absolutely safe, but at the same time be getting the things which he most needs and which can be obtained nowhere as well as in camp.

Any information regarding the details of the arrangements for "Camp Delwood" may be obtained at the office of the boys' department of the association. All applications for the camp should be sent to E. W. Barnes, boys' work director. In case there are a larger number of applications for the camp than can be received, the first to come will have preference.

FARRELL DEFENDS THE STEEL TRUST

HELD UP AS INDUSTRIAL BENEFACTOR

Domestic Consumer Favored, He Says—Employes Have Been Given Increase

NEW YORK, May 13.—The United States Steel corporation as an industrial benefactor was the subject of today's testimony of the James A. Farrell, its president, in the government suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman antitrust law. It was Mr. Farrell's second day on the stand for the defense.

He testified that the corporation used its enormous stocks of pig tin to prevent speculators from cornering the commodity and sold it to its competitors at cost when attempts to corner it caused a scarcity.

Since its organization, he testified, the corporation had raised the wages of its employes 28½ per cent, adding $40,000,000 a year to its payrolls. The average wage of employes in 1901 was $716.88, and last year it was $856.70.

Not in Control of Trade.

Mr. Farrell gave a clean bill of health to the American Steel and Wire company, one of the subsidiaries of the corporation which the government alleges is a monopoly in itself. He quoted many figures to show that of the hundreds of different kinds of wire products which the company manufactured its percentage of production was less than half of the country's total output, and in one instance he named a so-called independent concern as the manufacturer of as much as 75 per cent.

Answering the charge that, owing to "the community of interest" between railroads and the Steel corporation, the corporation was favored over other manufacturers in buying steel, Mr. Farrell said that it was the custom of the railroads to get their supplies from the steel mills nearest their shops, regardless of who owned the mill.

Favors Domestic Consumer.

The Steel corporation, he repeated, had made every effort to push its foreign trade, and while the corporation had been able to obtain higher prices for its export products, prices to do-

GOV. JOHNSON WILL MAKE REPLY TODAY

Japan Will Depend Upon U. S. to Test Constitutionality of Measure

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Japanese ambassador will take no further steps in the protest against the California antialien land law until Governor Johnson acts on the bill before him. Should he sign it, it was learned today, Japan without making further representations to the state department will await a reasonable time to learn what the federal administration intends to do to meet its complaint.

Japan will not move to test the constitutionality of the law, holding it incumbent upon the United States to take up that question.

Although it is understood that Governor Johnson has 30 days to act, officials believe his answer to Secretary Bryan's last communication will be received within a week.

The Japanese situation was discussed today at the cabinet meeting but no conclusion was reached.

May Reply Today.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 13.—Governor Johnson probably will send a message to Secretary Bryan tomorrow morning, giving his final decision upon the request of the federal government that he withhold his signature from the alien land bill.

This was the announcement given out tonight from the executive office and is taken to mean that the governor has made up his mind just what he will do. The belief is prevalent here that he will dispatch a full statement of his views to Washington and immediately thereafter sign the bill.

It was known today that Governor Johnson expected to reach the matter tonight, but the press of legislative business kept him engaged throughout most of the day and resulted in a change of plans. In conversation he refused to discuss the land bill or any phase of the situation with respect to Japan's protests or the controversy in Washington.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 15 INDICTMENTS IN DENVER

DENVER, May 13.—The grand jury today returned 15 indictments. One of them was directed against Patrolman S. McIntyre, charged with having accepted tribute from Maggie Birschard. Two of the indictments were against Marshall B. Smith, chairman of the Republican county central committee, and coreceiver for the Denver, Laramie & Northwestern Railway company, and W. W. Garwood, attorney, charging them with violation of election laws in connection with the recent school board election. The remainder of the indictments were against saloon keepers who are charged with having violated closing laws.

PROGRESSIVES SCORED BY BRYAN

Says They Should Help the Democratic Party If They Are Sincere

PRAISES NEW TARIFF BILL

Predicts Presidential Primary Will Soon Replace National Conventions

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 13.—Secretary of State W. J. Bryan, in speaking at the dinner of the Central Democratic club tonight, said it was the first political speech he had had occasion to make since he put on his new reserve.

"I am here tonight as the substitute for the president," he said.

"There were a lot of Republicans who thought we lacked intelligence, who thought we belonged to the rabble. But we have a president who is more closely identified with the learned institutions of the country than any other president we have ever had," declared the secretary.

Mr. Bryan said that President Wilson has shown the country that the Democratic party is not a party of panic.

Referring to the factional quarrel in the Republican party last year, the secretary of state declared there is no need for a Progressive party.

Pays Respect to Progressives.

"If the Progressives stand for principle," said Mr. Bryan, "they will stand with the Democratic party. If the Progressives feel they can help the country, they should help the Democratic party and not stand aside and antagonize it. The Progressives made their fight for progressive measures. Where were the Progressives when the Democratic party years ago made its fight against Wall street domination?"

Mr. Bryan called attention to the governors the Democrats have elected. "Look at Governor Cox of Ohio. There's a reformer who asked 36 reforms and got 36," said he.

"It was a Democratic governor of New Jersey who first gave us the light breaking in the east. It was a Democratic governor who first arrayed himself with the people. It was a Democratic governor who had the temerity to ~~oppose the bosses~~ in New Jersey."

Lauds the Tariff Bill.

The secretary then referred to the governor of New York, who he said stood out so that the people could run their government and their parties.

The tariff bill just passed by the house was declared the best in a generation. "I want to tell you that Speaker Clark, Oscar Underwood and A. Mitchell Palmer have the best bill in a generation. It was written on the people's side," he said.

In closing, Mr. Bryan said he was happy to see the things for which he had contended triumph at last, and that "everywhere reforms are moving on, all moving on, because back of them is the spirit of justice and Democracy."

Predicts General Primary.

In addressing the Pennsylvania legislature this afternoon on the distinction between democracy and aristocracy, Secretary Bryan predicted that before another general election the presidential primary would be so general that there would be no need to hold national conventions and that presidential nominees would be named, not by party leaders or bosses, but by the people.

Secretary Bryan came here to speak at the Jefferson anniversary dinner of the Central Democratic club of Harrisburg, and was invited to address the members of the legislature. He told

Local Militia Co. Wins Annual State Rifle Championship

Company A, Second regiment, Colorado National Guard, of Colorado Springs, yesterday received official notice from Adjutant General Chase of Colorado of the winning of the indoor rifle championship among the 26 companies of the National guard in the state. The locals' score was 368, and was made during the winter months, when the members of the rifle team peppered away at targets every week. Those making up the team were Lieutenants McDonald and Bancroft, Sergeants Conner and Rowe, Corporal Andress and Private Regan. They received bronze medals for their work.

Scores for last summer's shooting in the open range were received yesterday by the company, showing that local riflemen led the state, although they were handicapped by a poor range. The classification by state officers of the local shooters was as follows: Expert riflemen—Lieutenants Bancroft and McDonald, Sergeants Ballard and Bainter and Corporal Andress; Sharpshooter—Sergeant Connor. Marksmen—Sergeant Rowe, Corporals Dickens and Kinsley and Private Haring. This year the local company has equipped its range properly and expects to lead the field with a wider margin than last year.

mestic consumers had grown cheaper. He added that the foreign business of the corporation now was being threatened by new steel plants in Australia, which could mine and assemble raw material and manufacture steel at a lower cost than the corporation.

"Our competitors," he said, "have shown no desire to manufacture cotton ties so it devolved upon us to supply the demand. It is not an attractive business, but last year we supplied the compressmen in the south with 1,900,000 bundles at 85 cents a bundle. If we should stop manufacture the cotton crop this year would lie on the ground.

Government Given Preference.

"The government at the time of the recent floods," he continued, "needed steel piling to strengthen the levee at New Orleans. We got a rush order for 815 tons on Thursday and in spite of the fact that we were very busy, we delivered it on Tuesday next, 86 hours before the high waters arrived. We always give preference to government work."

The cost of production of steel was greater in America than in European countries, Mr. Farrell testified. He said the wages paid abroad were 27 per cent to 35 per cent lower than here; freight rates were lower and shipping facilities for export trade were better.

"Pig iron could be manufactured in India and laid down in Calcutta at [illegible] ton freight, he added, and there was now under way in a sailing vessel from that port to San Francisco the first cargo of Indian pig iron ever brought to this country.

"The freight was $8.50 a ton and under the new duty the tariff is 11 cents. Then the pig iron would be laid down in San Francisco at a cost of about $11.50. [illegible] pig iron could be laid down in San Francisco under [illegible] duty for [illegible]. The present market price for pig iron on the Pacific coast is [illegible]."

"Did you tell Mr. Underwood about [illegible]" asked Judge Dickinson, counsel for the government.

[illegible] it would make any difference," [illegible] smiled the witness.

NEW YORK CITY VICE MEASURE OPPOSED

NEW YORK, May 13.—A legislative measure providing for a public welfare board to supervise control of gambling and the social evil in New York city was attacked as reactionary and pernicious at a hearing before Mayor Gaynor today. Leading social workers expressed their views on the question of withdrawing from the police jurisdiction over the vices named. The bill was passed by the recent legislature as an outcome of the several inquiries into the police situation after the murder of Herman Rosenthal last summer. The measure now is before the mayor for his signature or veto.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is chief supporter of the Bureau of Social Hygiene, protested against the bill through Starr J. Murphy, head of the bureau, who said action should be deferred until after the bureau has completed its investigation of the social evil in Europe and has prepared its data for study here.

The aldermanic investigating committee and the Bureau of Municipal Research also entered objection. Proper administration by the police rather than a separate board of control, the protestors hold, was the solution of the vice situation.

Officers of the citizens' committee, former Mayor Seth Low and others, urged the mayor to sign the bill.

vote, Senator Townsend being the only Republican present voting against it and throwing down the gauge of battle for the minority side.

The fight today began immediately after the executive session was ordered at the request of Senator Bacon. Such persistent opposition to any one presidential nomination has not been manifested in the senate for many years. Hundreds of former President Taft's appointments were held up in the closing days of the last session, but attacks were not directed toward any individual nomination and at no time did the senate spend so many hours behind closed doors in the discussion of such appointments.

The last long struggle over a nomination recalled by senators tonight was that over the appointment of Leonard Wood, now major general and chief of staff of the army, when he was jumped to the rank of brigadier general over the heads of scores of men who had served many years longer than he in the army. General Wood was finally confirmed after the senate chamber had overflowed with oratory against him and in his support.

Colonel Roosevelt to Aid of Man Hurt in Explosion of Bomb

NEW YORK, May 13.—Theodore Roosevelt came to the aid today of Owen Egan, the city's expert on explosives, who has been unable to get the city to pay his doctor's bill for severe injuries to his hands, received in opening a bomb sent to Judge Otto Rosalsky. The ex-president wrote to the city comptroller arguing that Egan be paid his medical expenses of $385 and that some way be found to enable him to take an examination for promotion and become eligible for a pension. Egan performs his hazardous work on a salary of $1,500 a year.

Colonel Roosevelt's sympathy for Egan was enlisted by the colonel's cousin, Philip J. Roosevelt, a young newspaper man.

the lawmakers he desired to talk of fundamental ideas that are appropriate at this time.

"Jefferson, a century ago, spoke of two parties," he said. "One was the Democratic party and the other the aristocratic party. The Democratic party is that party which tries to bring the government near the people, and the aristocratic party is that which desires to restrain and obstruct popular government.

Platform Is Binding.

"It is important to know whether the legislative representative is holding to the democratic idea or to the aristocratic idea. It is a settled principle of this country that a platform is binding upon every man that runs on that platform. Some men violate platforms because they say they cannot violate their conscience. No man should violate his party platform. It means that his conscience should begin to work before he is elected, and not afterward. A man who violates a party platform and betrays his party and the people is a worse criminal than the man who embezzles money.

"The day of the boss is gone. The people will write their own platform hereafter and send their own representatives to the legislative halls. And I venture to say that we have seen the last of the great national conventions. I predict that before another presidential election rolls around, the presidential primary will have become so general that the presidential candidates will be elected, not by the bosses or party leaders, but by the people."

NEW YORK CENTRAL PLANS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Plans of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company for the unification of some of the important lines of the system to simplify the corporate organization and furnish a broader basis for the permanent financing of improvements were announced today by J. P. Morgan & Co. A special meeting of the stockholders will be held June 16 to pass upon the plans already approved by the directors.

With the approval of the New York state public service commission, the New York Central road has been consolidated with, or has absorbed by merger, several lines, principally in New York state, that it previously held under lease or controlled and operated separately. It is now desired to consolidate the enlarged company with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, more than 90 per cent of the stock of which the New York Central road already owns, and other New York Central lines west of Buffalo.

In a statement issued tonight, president W. C. Brown of the New York Central said the road now had under way or in prospect extensive improvements for increasing the number of main tracks and terminal facilities with a view to handling additional traffic at reduced cost.

production and consumption of the commodity in this country, the number of concerns engaged in its manufacture and their identity, the market price in this and competing countries, the cost of production in this and competing countries, the percentage of labor cost here and abroad, transportation cost to principal markets here and abroad, what part of the existing tariff duty represents difference in cost of production here and abroad, and what part of the tariff duty represents the profit of the American manufacturer.

Democrats Copy G. O. P. Methods.

Senator Lippitt characterized the finance subcommittee private hearings of manufacturers as "star chamber sessions."

Replying to this, Senator Simmons said: "The Democratic party has copied the exact methods of the Republican party four years ago." He asked the Republicans why, if they were sincere in their demand for public hearings, they did not demand them immediately after the finance committee had voted three weeks ago against holding them.

Senator Penrose said he did give notice then that he would make such a demand as soon as the motion would be in order. "At that time," said Senator Penrose, "the tariff bill was being considered in a secret caucus over in the house, a most extraordinary method for treatment of such an important measure, with no one present in the galleries to witness the murder of American industry. I would not refer to it as a 'star chamber' proceeding, but rather as a vigorous imitation of the methods of the Spanish inquisition."

Want "Stump Speeches."

Senator Simmons charged that what the Republicans sought through public hearings was an opportunity to arrange for "stump speeches" by the interests, and "to give the gentlemen representing the interests grown rich under Republican protection another opportunity to declare that if the Payne-Aldrich rates are reduced one per cent their industries will be destroyed; to give them a chance to make an appeal from the judgment of the country expressed in the last election."

The amendment offered by Senator Bristow of Kansas to the sugar schedule would fix the duties on "ninety-six Cuban sugar" at $1.14 for three years; $1.056 for the next three years, then to be reduced to $0.972. The amendment would eliminate the provisions relating to the Dutch standard. These duties, Senator Bristow said, he was convinced would be ample protection in view of the development of the beet sugar industry.

VIOLATION OF CONTRACT LABOR LAW IS ALLEGED

DENVER, May 13.—Violation of the federal law which prohibits the importation of contract labor is the charge made against J. M. Archuleta, a citizen of Colorado, in a complaint filed today in the United States district court by United States District Attorney H. E. Kelly.

Archuleta is accused of bringing four unskilled Mexican workmen into the United States from Agua Prieta, Mexico, under contract to work for him.

GOV. AMMONS CUTS APPROPRIATION BILL DOWN TO REVENUES

DENVER, May 13.—Governor Ammons tonight acted upon the legislation perfected by the Fifteenth general assembly relative to appropriations of the second and third class. He vetoed items totaling $753,150 from the two classes, and this cut, with that of $150,000 cut from first-class appropriations, leaves the total amount passed upon favorably $2,856,850. The governor stated tonight that this amount is in accord with the state's revenue.

The governor also vetoed the bill relative to maternity hospitals. He has not acted upon the racing bill and the boxing bill, two measures which are exciting keen interest in the city and state.

The detailed veto on appropriations of second and third class is composed of the following amounts cut from the appropriations placed before the governor by the assembly:

School of Mines, $40,000; Normal, at Greeley, $8,500; State university, $40,000; School for Deaf and Blind, $82,900; Insane asylum, $99,000; School for Mental Defectives, $60,000; Girls Reformatory, $8,000; Boys Reformatory, $15,000; Workshop for Blind, $4,000; Children's home, $5,000, and duplicated appropriations, $210,750.

AMENDMENT LACKS ONE VOTE CARRYING

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14 (Wednesday).—Lacking one vote, the initiative and referendum resolution failed to pass the Illinois house of representatives at 1 o'clock this morning. Without announcing the result of the roll call, Speaker McKinley declared a motion postponing further action carried.

With the house in an uproar he then declared carried under the gavel a motion adjourning the house until 10 a. m. this morning.

Under the motion postponing further consideration, an effort will be made to take up the resolution at the session this (Wednesday) morning.

"Well, not exactly, but I can sell a man a coffin if he desires it," the witness replied.

NAVY DEPARTMENT IS ALARMED OVER AN ALLEGED "LEAK"

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Special agents of the department of justice officers of a nationally known detective agency and the local police have been called in by the navy department to investigate a "leak" through which during the last four months several relatively unimportant plans of ships and also minor documents have disappeared. Navy officials are inclined to minimize the importance of the losses.

The first losses were discovered on the night of March 4 last. Some minor structural plans of the dreadnaught Pennsylvania, now building, and other ships were among them. Documents, not especially secret, disappeared. Navy officials say they are not so much concerned over the importance of what already has been lost as they are to find the leak and prevent further losses. Each battleship has several sets of plans which are sometimes widely distributed among the bureaus and contractors.

Department Issues Statement.

The navy department issued this statement late today:

"On the night of March 4 (inauguration day) when there were a large number of people in the state, war and navy building, assembled to witness the inaugural fireworks, there were taken, by persons as yet unknown, from the draughting room of the bureau of steam engineering, uncompleted plans of the electric wiring of the new battleship Pennsylvania. These plans showed the general arrangement of the decks and hatches, but would be of no particular value to anyone wishing to obtain naval information not generally made public. A short time after similar plans were missed from the same draughting room. The matter still is under investigation."

The rooms of the engineering bureau commanded a fine view of the fireworks, and a number of visitors were in them on the night of March 4. For the most part these were members of the families of officials and clerks, and no one was admitted without a pass. The plans were ordinary blue prints, lying on the drafting table, but were large enough to make quite a conspicuous roll.

Other Plans Missing.

The fact that other plans for electrical wiring were missed after the fourth of March tended to relieve the visitors from suspicion and as this was the last occasion upon which the rooms were open to others than employes, the investigation turned in their direction.

The plans were very simple and such as could be prepared to order by any competent electrician. They did not relate to the fire control or turret mechanism, and therefore, had no particular naval value.

The officials, however, were alarmed at the occurrence because it disclosed the possibility of the theft of really important secret plans. Consequently, extra precautions have been taken to guard against the entry into the drafting rooms of anyone who does not belong there, and a system of checking and accounting will be rigidly enforced.

DETECTIVES RIDE

mediary between the Cincinnati Traction company and its striking employes, the deadlock was on tonight and the street car system was absolutely at a standstill.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Striking barbers attempting today to close shops in the retail district above and below Twenty-third street, came in conflict with the police at several places causing great excitement among the crowds of women shoppers. When the mob tried to rescue two men who were arested, police clubs swung freely before a path was cleared to a station house.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., May 13.—No cars were running on the Fort William-Port Arthur municipal street railway lines today as the result of the strike of the employes for higher wages and shorter hours.

MAY NOT RECOVER FROM SELF-INFLICTED WOUND

While suffering from a temporary attack of mental depression, thought to have been brought about by study, Maurice Keesling, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Keesling, 2[illegible] South Corona street, shot himself through the left lung shortly after midnight and inflicted a wound from which he may not recover.

Keesling had gone to his room at the usual hour last night when, shortly after midnight his brother, who was returning from town, heard a shot in the house and upon investigation found him lying on a couch in his room shot through the left lung. He was taken to St. Francis hospital, where, at an early hour this morning, his condition was considered serious.

Young Keesling is a senior in the High school and is prominent in fraternity affairs. Recently he has been studying extremely hard and has also taken part in a number of High school debates and overstudy is thought to have been the cause of the act.

Representatives of the state said they had searched in vain since 1909 for a relative or friend of the dead man who could tell the jury that Hopkins was dead.

BAPTIST CONFERENCE MEETS IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Fifteen hundred delegates are expected to be present tomorrow at the first synod of the Southern Baptist conference which includes the states of Texas and New Mexico. It is probable that the present president, Dr. Lansing Burrows of Georgia, will be reelected.

Thirty-eight men and women are devoting their entire time to Sunday school work in the 16 states covered by the Southern Baptist church, it was reported today at the annual meeting of the Sunday school workers of the Southern Baptist convention. Twelve years ago there were none. The Sunday school workers convened this morning and will adjourn at noon tomorrow.

Six hundred persons are expected to attend a banquet Friday night to be given for the Kings Teachers. Only those holding teachers' training diplomas of the Sunday school board will be permitted to attend.

NEBRASKA AND IOWA ARE TORNADO-SWEPT

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., May 13.—One man is dead, a boy badly injured and much property loss resulted from a tornado which swept the farming district four miles east of Scottsbluff last night. Telephone wires are down and the name of the man killed has not been learned.

The son of Thomas Hall is badly injured and is in a hospital here. The home of Henry Schaefer was wrecked and all the other buildings on the place destroyed. Luther Mattox lost all his buildings, except his stone dwelling house. E. W. Ebert lost his home and barns. A family named Ryan had everything on their place carried away, and they spent the night on the prairie without shelter. An eighty barrel steel water tank on the Hall farm was carried two miles by the wind.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 13.—One of the heaviest wind and electric storms so far this season swept over Iowa early today, and caused considerable damage to telegraph and telephone wires. The storm appeared heaviest in the south central part of the state, particularly at Madrid, according to weather bureau reports. In Des Moines a rain fall of .52 was recorded.

Aside from the demoralization of wire communication little damage was reported.

Wilkie Will Leave Customs Service

WASHINGTON, May 13.—John E. Wilkie, supervising special agent of the customs service and for fourteen years chief of the United States secret service, will resign from the government service shortly, it was learned unofficially today. Mr. Wilkie will retire voluntarily to accept a commercial position in Chicago. His successor has not yet been chosen.

As chief of the secret service, Mr. Wilkie organized the emergency force of men that checkmated Spanish spies at the time of the war with Spain.

THREE MEET DEATH WHEN CHURCH FIRED BY LIGHTNING BURNS

STRATFORD, Ont., May 13.—The tall spire of the Knox Presbyterian church, 160 feet above the curb, was struck by lightning early today and in the ensuing fire the chief of police, the fire chief and a policeman were killed and a fireman was mortally injured. The three men who lost their lives were buried beneath the burning belfry when it fell.

The dead:

J. A. M'CARTHY, chief of police.
HUGH DURKIN, fire chief.
MATTHEW HAMILTON, policeman.

The injured man is Sidney Van Stone.

The steeple, visible over a great radius, burned without hindrance as the puny streams of water far below fell many feet short of the blaze. Showers of blazing embers fired the roof of the church and McCarthy, Durkin and Hamilton, dragging hose, had scrambled up a ladder to the roof when the belfry fell. The blaze ate its way into the building.

The loss is about $50,000.

CHAS. P. NEILL LEAVES GOVERNMENT SERVICE

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor since 1905 and recently made commissioner of labor statistics in the new department of labor, resigned today to take a position outside the government service. He was prominently identified with the arbitration of many noted wage disputes under the Erdman act.

Dr. Neill has taken a position with the American Smelting & Refining company to organize and conduct its labor department. In a statement today Dr. Neill said the offer came to him from President Daniel Guggenheim through William Loeb, Jr., managing director of the Guggenheim corporations.

PERJURERS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH, SAYS GOODWIN

GLOBE, Ariz., May 13.—John B. Goodwin, ex-soldier and the first man executed under the authority of the federal government in Arizona, was hanged here today by United States Marshal Charles Overlock.

Before the trap was sprung, Goodwin made a statement that perjurers were responsible for his death.

Goodwin was convicted of the murder of Alfred Hillpot and Fred Kibbe on the San Carlos Indian reservation. He was granted a 60-day reprieve by President Wilson in March but was refused yesterday a further stay of execution.

State authorities having refused to allow the execution at the penitentiary, Goodwin was hanged at the county jail.

FIRST EXECUTION WILL OCCUR IN NEVADA TODAY

RENO, Nev., May 13.—On the first anniversary of the crime, Andrew Mircovich, who killed John Gregovich at Tonopah, will be executed by shooting at the state prison at Carson City tomorrow morning. It will be the first execution by shooting since the law was passed two years ago.

Three guards will pull triggers of rifles held in vises and whose barrels project from a wall. One rifle will have blank cartridges. The prisoner will sit in a chair 25 feet distant, facing the rifles.

COMES NOW FUTURIST FACE POWDER

The Paris correspondent of the Dry Goods Economist announces that the Post-Impressionist artists, painting, as they do, mauve, yellow, green and brown flesh tints, have given a new idea to manufacturers of cosmetics. The fashionable woman may now tint her complexion in any tone as easily as she may assume a toilette in that color. One manufacturer is showing face powders in shades called violet, yellow, emerald, old rose and ashen rose.

These new tints are recommended only for evening wear, as it is generally admitted that they would be too grotesque for daylight. The amazing thing, however, is that they really look well on the skin, and when applied give only the faintest suggestion of shadowy color. Thus, when the mauve powder is used, the shadows have a sort of purple bloom, which is rather becoming, and lends softness to the face, accentuating in small degree the expression of the eyebrows and eyelashes, and also intensifying the color of the eyes. The purple tint is usually recommended for brunettes with blue or gray eyes.

Yellow powder is flattering to blondes who need to intensify the yellow in their skins to correspond with the shadows cast from golden hair. This intensifies the type and makes it much warmer looking, therefore much more harmonious than if the face were tinted with either white or so-called flesh colored powder.

The most difficult of all the new shades to conceive as having a place among beauty applications is the green powder. But through demonstration it is proved that certain types of coloring look well with this green tint, notably ashen blondes, who have the reflection of green lights from the hair. This is also recommended for types too florid, whether blonde or brunette. It is said to give a cool, clean look to such skins.

The rose color is not at all the old-fashioned flesh pink, but a sort of salmon tinted old rose. This is a color which would be well suited to a neutral brunette, as it would warm the type, giving body and a look of strength to the skin, and a consequent health-like flush.

The new ashes of roses varies only slightly from the old rose, being more brown and ashen in its tone and, therefore, suitable for brunettes with color. It tones down a tendency to too high a flush.

It is an interesting fact that these new cosmetics are made from powder of real pearls, a discovery of somewhat recent date, though for some time in quite current use in Paris. It seems that the discovery of the value of pulverized real pearls as a face powder was somewhat accidental. It is said that it came about in this way:

A worker in pearls observed that some of the young girls employed in the factory where the pearls were pierced had unusually brilliant complexions. Investigation showed that they were in the habit of rubbing on their faces the powder created in the process of piercing, whereby a translucent clearness of the skin was produced.

It was found, moreover, that the pearl powder not only gave beauty, but had the quality of perfectly adhering to the skin.

Spring Luncheon.

Mrs. Carrie B. Morgan entertained at a charming spring luncheon on Sunday. Apple blossoms were used in profusion to decorate her home at 15 East Jefferson street, and an especially artistic bowl of them formed the centerpiece of the luncheon table where covers were laid for Mrs. Taylor Collins and Mrs. Coffman, sisters of Mrs. Morgan; Mrs. Livia Bryant and her house guest, Mrs. Peckham of New York, and the hostess. Mrs. Peckham is leaving soon for her home in the east.

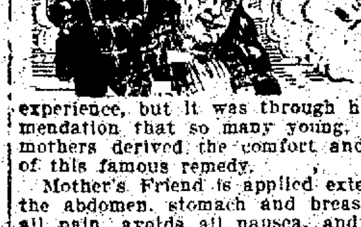
Columbia Parent-Teacher Election.

At the last meeting of the year, held Monday afternoon, the Columbia school Parent-Teacher association reelected as officers for the ensuing year the members who have been such efficient leaders for the past two years. They are Mrs. G. H. Hoon, president; Mrs. C. M. Prior, vice president; Mrs. J. Guinn, secretary; Mrs. J. T. Leggett, treasurer; Mrs. F. W. Brown, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Miss Lida Owen Murray, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The meeting was a most interesting one and was largely attended. After the election of officers, Mrs. Prior spoke on the playground movement and the proposed playground in Monument park. The members of the association were extremely interested and so enthusiastic over the scheme that they voted to donate $15 from their treasury to aid in founding this playground. It was also voted to give a certain sum to aid the school in buying the kinetoscope which the teachers and pupils are earnestly working for. Plans were made for a picnic on Saturday, May 31, in Monument Valley park, for the parents, teachers and children. After the business meeting, refreshments were served.

The Columbia Parent-Teacher association is one of the most active in the city, and has, through its enthusiastic interest and cooperation with the teachers and students, accomplished many really worth-while things for the school during the past year. A splendid spirit prevails in the association, and its members are looking forward with great pleasure to next year's work.



Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any settled community there's a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. Not only is she reminiscent of her own experience, but it was through her recommendation that so many young, expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

Mother's Friend is applied externally to the abdomen, stomach and breasts, allays all pain, avoids all nausea, and prevents caking of the breasts.

It is quickly and wonderfully penetrating, permits the muscles to expand without the strain on the ligaments, and prepares the system so thoroughly that the crisis is passed almost without the slightest distress. Thus there need be no such thing as dread or fear.

No better nor more cheering advice can be given the expectant mother than to suggest the use of Mother's Friend. She will take courage from the beginning. The days will be cheerful, the nights restful. Thus the health is preserved, the mind is in repose and the period is an unending one of quiet, joyful anticipation.

You can obtain Mother's Friend of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. Do not forget nor neglect to be supplied with this greatest remedy ever devised for motherhood. It is unfailing. Write at once to Bradfield Regulator Co., 133 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very interesting and instructive book of advice for expectant mothers.

TUESDAY, MAY 13, 1913

HOME INDUSTRIES AND HOME TRADE

HOME INDUSTRY WEEK, beginning next Monday, will be an even more successful affair than was at first expected. And its greatest success will lie in its educational value. Not even the members of the committee in charge knew, when they began work, that there are more than 150 concerns in El Paso county engaged in manufacturing. Of course most of them are small, but some are of large importance and all contribute to the welfare of the region.

All next week the products of these manufacturers will be exhibited in downtown store windows. More than fifty windows on the main streets have already been obtained and the exhibits are ready for them. When they are opened next week the display will surprise those who best know the industrial resources of this region.

But the ultimate purpose of Home Industry Week is not merely to entertain the public with attractive window exhibits, but to show the importance of encouraging these industries by home patronage. In retail lines Colorado Springs has stores such as one would scarcely expect to find in a city of less than 100,000 people. They are made possible largely because of the additional patronage which comes in the summer tourist season, but the tourist's business alone could not support them, and during nine months of the year the merchants must depend entirely on the home trade. For many years the importance of home trading has been preached incessantly, and our people as a whole are loyal to their local merchants.

There are certain lines of manufacturing in which the same good results could be obtained by strict adherence to this principle. There are many articles which can be made as well and as cheaply here as anywhere else, and if everybody would insist on having a homemade brand there would soon be a substantial increase in the manufacturing payroll. This is especially true of such articles as brooms and other household necessities which are used by everybody and for which the local demand is therefore large enough to consume the entire output of a factory.

The exhibits during Home Industry Week will impress this idea more forcibly upon the public mind than any amount of argument could do. The event will without doubt be a valuable stimulus to local industry.

DANDELIONS

PUEBLO possesses the unique distinction of having a citizen who is really fond of dandelions, and who says so in print, although his name is carefully suppressed through fear of violence from his neighbors. "The most beautiful lawns in Colorado," says this remarkable man, "are lawns of dandelions. When the flowers are in bloom the lawns are a rich golden under the blossoms of the trees." He thinks they ought to be cultivated.

Opinions may differ as to the beauty of the dandelion flower, but there is no doubt as to the generally pestiferous nature of the plant. It is so hardy that neither frost, insects, the lawn mower or the hoe can affect it. Even when dug up by the roots and thrown away it has the magical power of reproducing itself apparently from nothing at all. Its seeds are borne broadcast by the the wind, and in Colorado Springs they are even more effectively distributed by the water in the irrigation ditches.

The plant does not thrive without water and flatly refuses to grow on vacant lots and other unirrigated tracts where its blossom at least would be less objectionable than the tumble weed; instead it prefers carefully tended lawns. And it is amazing how quickly a dandelion crop can take complete possession of a lawn, driving out the grass and leaving only an unsightly expanse of ragged leaves.

A few years ago it was thought that a remedy had been found in an iron sulphate spray, but the dandelions thrived just the same. Evidently the case is hopeless, for there is nothing to do but fight them off as long as possible by grubbing out the individual plants, and finally spading up the lawn when the other method fails. Whoever can devise a really effective exterminator of the yellow pest will richly deserve a monument.

PEACE PROPAGANDA RUN MAD

A FEW days ago the American Peace Society, in its annual convention at St. Louis, removed Dr. Lyman Abbot from its list of vice presidents for the extraordinary reason that he had signed an appeal to the Navy League for larger naval appropriations. The incident throws an interesting light on the mental processes of some of the extremists like Mr. Carnegie, who are back of the Peace society and kindred organizations.

Every well balanced person longs for the day when universal arbitration will displace militarism as a means of settling international controversies. But that day has not come and there is no reason to believe that it will come in the near future. In the meantime nations must have armies and navies. Under existing conditions they are the surest preventive of war. True, if no nation had an army or a navy there could be no war, but imagine what would happen to any one of the great powers that allowed itself to drop behind in the present race. Great Britain, for instance, would be wiped off the map before the end of this year but for its navy, and Germany would suffer a similar fate but for its strong forces on land and sea.

It is idle to talk of the United States or any other power attempting to set the example alone. Disarmament would only invite invasion unless it were the result of an international agreement entered into by all of the great military nations. Washington's advice "to be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace" is as true now as it was more than a century ago. It is a short-sighted American who believes that under present conditions the pacifist cause can be advanced, or the safety of the country increased, by withholding appropriations from the army and navy.

"BEWARE OF FOUNTAIN."

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Will thank you for room in the "Open Parliament" to answer the communication of "H. G. F." which appeared in that column recently, as well as your editorial on "Automobile Highwaymen."

By ordinance the speed limit set by the town of Fountain is 10 miles per hour. At the time of passing the ordinance the marshal was instructed not to stop anyone going less than 18 miles per hour. A stop-watch was provided and distances carefully measured.

True, the marshal stopped "H. G. F." within a hundred feet. Two seconds later he would have been that far beyond reach of the officer. Investigation will show that he made no effort to stop until his tires were threatened with the revolver.

The justice being out of town, the marshal was instructed by a member of the town board, in the presence of another member, several citizens of Fountain, and "H. G. F." and his party as well, to collect, not a fine, but a cash bond for his appearance later.

The bond was delivered to the accompaniment of much loud and abusive language on the part of "H. G. F." and threats "to get even for this." On reconsideration of the threat, the gentleman did not think it wise to appear, in person or by counsel. Kindly notice that even he—admits one infraction of the law!

On their return through Fountain the friends of the aggrieved gentleman rode leisurely along the street until they caught sight of the marshal. Then they opened the throttle wide, insulting the officer with vile language and gestures.

It is not the intention of our town to subsist on funds collected from automobilists at the muzzle of a gun, but the town believes, and will continue to believe, that no reckless fiend, speeding through our streets at any rate his fancy or his bottle may dictate can possibly be of benefit to our community. We are heartily in sympathy with "H. G. F." and with your editorial in warning this class of travelers to take another road.

We sincerely condone the fact that The Gazette, without due investigation, and with prejudice unbelievable, has so eagerly seized and enlarged upon the unsupported statement of an individual against a law-abiding community.

GEORGE H. BENEDICT.

ARMY EFFICIENCY.

From the Washington Star.

Secretary Garrison's view of the question of military efficiency is obviously sound. He sees the necessity of putting the American army in a condition of practical training by occasional assemblages on a division basis to permit the commanding officers to become familiar with the handling of such large bodies of men and to work out the most effective means of managing supplies and equipment. The need of scattering the army in small units all over the country has passed. There are no frontier conditions that call for close range stationing of troops to guard settlers, and in view of facilities for rapid communication it would be not an impracticable or an unwise plan to concentrate the entire military force at some central point in the middle west. An immense amount of money, however, has been expended in the construction and maintenance of army posts and a certain sense of economy impels their continued use, while local sentiment is always adverse to the abandonment of a station of this character. So it is not within easy contemplation that the small garrison system—and when the matter is viewed in the broadest aspect a regimental garrison is a small one—will be supplanted by any larger plan of army administration. Secretary Garrison, however, believes that even with the present garrison establishment regarded as permanent it is possible to hold occasional divisional maneuvers, and his public statement to this effect should attract sufficient attention to bring the matter under discussion. As long as an army is maintained the possibility of its use in war is to be kept in mind, for it is essentially a fighting force held in leash against an emergency. If it is not kept up to the highest possible pitch of potential efficiency by maneuvers and drills based upon the latest experiences in warfare it represents an economic waste and stands as a false reliance against the time of possible trouble.

THE DEATH OF DICKENS' LITTLE DORRIT.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Mary Ann Cooper, the original of Little Dorrit in Dickens' famous story, has passed away at the age of 100. The novelist and she were playmates together in their childhood at Somerstown.

When "Little Dorrit" was issued serially in 1855 to 1857 the readers eagerly awaited the appearance of each installment, and the description of William Dorrit's wretched captivity in the Marshalsea prison through the indignation it evoked had an effect that was far-reaching in bringing about prison reforms. But it must have been beyond the wildest dreams of Dickens' little playmate that the boy who skated, rolled a hoop or entered with zest into a game of blind man's buff would one day confer upon her a literary immortality comparable with that which has been the portion of Dante's Beatrice or Petrarch's Laura or Burns' Jean. The poet speaks proudly of his verse that "immortalizes whom it sings," and this woman, otherwise unknown to fame, has inherited imperishable renown in the person of her literary counterpart.

How easy it would have been for Mary Ann Cooper to remain forever among "the forgotten millions." What was she among so many in the same street, village, parish or kingdom? Yet by proxy she is known around the world, wherever an English book is read and the tongue of Milton and Shakespeare is spoken. She takes her place forever among a gallery of types who are more real than living people. Her fame shall not fail, nor her glory fade as long as David Copperfield and Little Nell, Pickwick and Sairy Gamp and Nicholas Nickleby shall live. A renown not of her seeking shall keep the memory green of the little girl who was the playmate of Charles Dickens.

AND O JOY! TONIGHT IS HEART NIGHT!

Florence Lillian Pierce in Loz Onglaze Times.

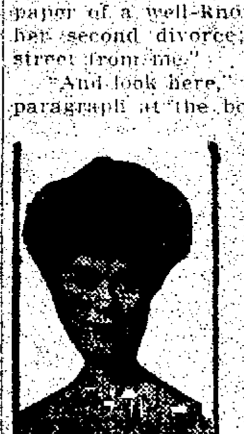
With Mary Garden it was Art night. With Tetrazzini it was Heart night. Tetrazzini is vocally a perfect Gilda, but physically she is overabundant for the part. Yet with her advoirdupois she has that rare accessory—poise. She is as gay and untarnished in manner as a child, and flutters through the part like a butterfly reincarnated into a lark. She slides into her upper cataract like an eel and gives out her glory with the ease of a yawn.

COINCIDENCES

By RUTH CAMERON.

"I used to know that woman," said the author-man, pointing to a double-column cut in the newspaper of a well-known actress who had just gotten her second divorce; "she used to live across the street from me."

"And look here," he went on, pointing out a little paragraph at the bottom of the page about a man who was suing the city for damages, "I used to know him, too. He was my Sunday school teacher once."



"It's really peculiar," he concluded, as he folded the paper up and tossed it on the table, "how often I see things about people I know in the newspapers."

The man-who-thinks had been listening idly but he came to life at that. "Do you really think you see a great many names which you know," he asked, "or that they seem many because they make more impression on you?"

The author-man was most indignant at that hypothesis and they went off into a heated argument.

Which would you have sided with?

Personally, I agree with the man-who-thinks.

And in the light of his theory, I recalled to mind a similar condition which may be explained in the same way.

You have doubtless noticed that if you learn a new word or hear some new name, you will immediately run across that new word or name several times.

And you have probably remarked upon that as a coincidence.

But is it?

Isn't it the most natural thing in the world?

In all probability that word or name didn't begin to come into your line of vision at just that time. It had undoubtedly been there all the while. Only you hadn't noticed it before. You had looked at it but you hadn't seen it. We look at a vast number of things which we don't really see. Then in some way your attention was called to it and after that you saw it every time you looked at it.

For instance, a friend of mine told me he was going to have a certain artist draw him a picture for an advertisement he was getting out. I had never happened to hear that artist's name before. The next day I saw one of his pictures in a magazine I was reading and since then I have noticed at least half a dozen pieces of his work and seen two mentions of him in the newspapers. Now it isn't likely that his work never came into my ken before. I had undoubtedly looked at his drawings with the name clearly written down in the corner again and again. But I hadn't noticed the name. After I had my attention called to it I noticed it every time. But it wasn't a coincidence; it was just logical cause and effect.

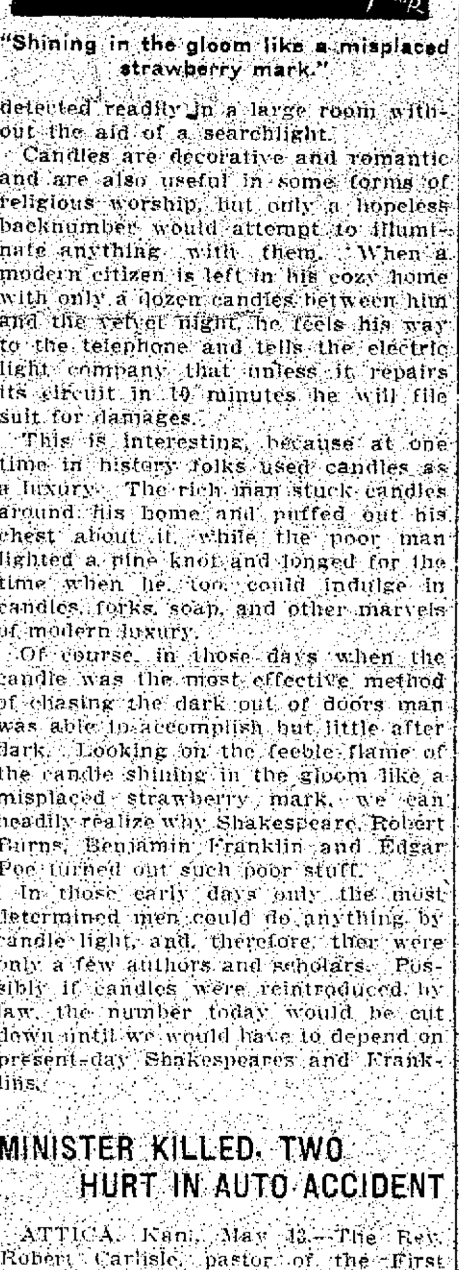
Of course coincidences do happen, but I fancy that if we chose to try, we could find logical explanations of what appear to be coincidences a great deal oftener than we do.

CANDLES

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

A candle is a cylinder of tallow or wax with a wick in it. It is used principally to show off a rare old or an expensive new candle-stick.

When a candle is lighted it makes a tiny, tapering hole in the darkness. This is principally valuable because it prevents the passerby from running into the candle. If the candle is in good health and is burning well, it can be detected readily in a large room without the aid of a searchlight.



"Shining in the gloom like a misplaced strawberry mark."

Candles are decorative and romantic and are also useful in some forms of religious worship, but only a hopeless backnumber would attempt to illuminate anything with them. When a modern citizen is left in his cozy home with only a dozen candles between him and the velvet night, he feels his way to the telephone and tells the electric light company that unless it repairs its circuit in 10 minutes he will file suit for damages.

This is interesting, because at one time in history folks used candles as a luxury. The rich man stuck candles around his home and puffed out his chest about it, while the poor man lighted a pine knot and longed for the time when he, too, could indulge in candles, forks, soap, and other marvels of modern luxury.

Of course, in those days when the candle was the most effective method of chasing the dark out of doors man was able to accomplish but little after dark. Looking on the feeble flame of the candle shining in the gloom like a misplaced strawberry mark, we can readily realize why Shakespeare, Robert Burns, Benjamin Franklin and Edgar Poe turned out such poor stuff.

In those early days only the most determined men could do anything by candle light, and, therefore, there were only a few authors and scholars. Possibly if candles were reintroduced by law, the number today would be cut down until we would have to depend on present-day Shakespeares and Franklins.

MINISTER KILLED, TWO HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

ATTICA, Kan., May 13.—The Rev. Robert Carlisle, pastor of the First Methodist church at Atlanta, Kan., was killed and his brother and sister, J. A. Carlisle and Ethel Carlisle, both of Winfield, Kan., were injured seriously early today when their automobile skidded on a sandy road and overturned. The pastor was crushed to death. The other two were pinioned under the car 30 minutes before rescued.

GOVERNOR HUNT OF ARIZONA HAS JAPANESE QUESTION TO CONSIDER

While public attention was concentrated on the work of the California legislature in passing a bill to exclude non-resident Japanese from ownership of farming lands, the Arizona legislature was at work on a similar bill. The lower house of the legislature passed the measure, and it will go to the upper house and perhaps to Gov. George W. P. Hunt.

The Japanese truck farmers and small ranchers are indignant over the bill. N. Oyo, president of the Arizona Japanese association, is in California on his way to Japan with the body of his wife, who died here last week, and Henry Nimfiki, one of the moving spirits in the organization, is in jail in Globe on a charge of killing an aged American woman there.

The local Japanese were at sea in the matter until some of them got together. They said that before Oyo started for Japan last Saturday night he was authorized to lay the sentiment of the Japanese in this state before the government at Tokio. Whether this will take the form of a request for a revision of the existing law in Arizona or whether it will be made in behalf of their countrymen in California, the members of the association here declined to say.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 14, 1883.

There was an agitation in Manitou for electric lights for that place.

A party of 70 Cook tourists were visiting in the region.

The city council met to discuss the boxing of ditches and the extension of water mains north of the college.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 14, 1893.

The new Episcopal church (Christ church, afterwards St. Stephens,) had leased the old Congregational church building on Bijou street, and worshiped ther for the first time the morning of the fourteenth.

A party of six Denver men who had come down on their bicycles were registered at the Alamo hotel.

PROTEST MADE AGAINST PEACE DAY SUGGESTIONS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Protesting against the suggestions made for the celebration of "peace day" in the public schools of the city on May 18, the United Irish-American societies and the German-American Citizens league are urging Mayor Gaynor to use his power "to prevent the minds of the children from being poisoned by political heresies which are aimed not only at American patriotism, but at the harmony and peace which now prevail between various racial elements which comprise the great cosmopolitan people of the city and nation."

In a letter which goes into details in its attacks of the British-American plans to celebrate 100 years of peace in 1914, the societies state that they object to the "attempt which is now being made in our schools, of which 'peace' is a part of the plan to submerge the word 'American' for Anglo-Saxon" and to adopt the peace principles of Rhodes and Carnegie because by doing this we tear up the Declaration of Independence, as the imperialism of the peace movement is the Toryism which the declaration eradicated, and the Revolution suppressed."

District Commissioner Says "Joy Riding" in Govt. Autos Must Stop

WASHINGTON, May 13.—"Joy riding" in government automobiles promises to become a thing of the past, so far as the District of Columbia government is concerned. The district commissioner today put in effect a plan which they believe will effectively check the evil.

Under the new system each one of the 25 machines owned by the District will be carefully watched in reference to its cost of operation and maintenance. At the end of each quarter reports must be filed with the district auditor giving a detailed account of each car's mileage, the amount of gasoline consumed, cost of tires, the extent of repairs and the causes that made such repairs necessary. If it's found that the cost of maintenance one car is greater than that of the others explanations must be forthcoming.

Labor Is Better Off in U. S. Than England

WASHINGTON, May 13.—In a report prepared at the instance of Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce says that a comparison of 17 industries in Great Britain and the United States shows that the manufacturing establishments in this country have higher efficiency and two and a half times as many wage earners and one-sixth more power is needed in the United Kingdom than in the United States to produce a net output of equal value.

Average wages in the 17 industries, the report adds, were only half as high in Great Britain as here, although the wage cost to obtain an equal value of net output was 19 per cent higher.

WILL FIGHT FOR RIGHT TO PRINT SUFFRAGETTE

MANCHESTER, England, May 13.—T. Benson, the director of the National Labor press, which has announced its determination of continuing the publication of the Suffragette, said today:

"The fight is one of principle. Every edition will be censored by the management of the National Labor press and incident to outrage excluded. The management declares that an attempt to suppress a newspaper before it is published affects the right of free speech. It means a big fight if it is issued."

STREET CAR EMPLOYES REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

CINCINNATI, O., May 13.—The new union of Cincinnati street car employes today refused to arbitrate with the Cincinnati Traction company under the conditions offered by the latter and decided to continue the strike.

Recognition of the union before arbitration is insisted upon by the union men.

PHELPS IS ELECTED HEAD OF REPUBLICAN LEAGUES

WASHINGTON, May 13.—After a canvass of the ballots cast it was announced today that the annual election of officers of the League of Republican State Clubs had resulted in the following ticket being returned:

President—Oliver Phelps, Connecticut.

Vice President—Isaac R. Hitt, Illinois, and F. C. Goodman, Iowa.

Secretary—Charles M. Shinn, West Virginia.

Treasurer—D. T. Lincoln Townsend, Pennsylvania.

The annual meeting was concluded last night with a banquet at which the principal speaker was John G. Capers of South Carolina, former commissioner of internal revenue.

"BLIZZARD," NAME SOUTH POLAR NEWSPAPER

MELBOURNE, May 13.—Dr. Douglas Mawson, the Australian explorer and six members of his expedition to the South Polar regions who have been forced to spend the winter on Adelie land, sends a wireless announcement of the "Blizzard," the first newspaper to be regularly printed in the Antarctic. It promises its readers all the news of the South Polar regions once a month and starts out with a 26-page number. The circulation is at present limited, however, to the members of the staff, the only human beings on this barren tract.

The members of the party are all reported well, although almost snowed up in their huts.

POWER BOATS WILL RACE TO FRISCO THROUGH CANAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The management of the Panama-Pacific International exposition has received word from motorboat owners and builders that they would enter power boats for races to be held in 1915 from Chicago to New Orleans, thence via the Panama canal to the Golden Gate; also from Sandy Hook, at the entrance of New York harbor, through the Panama canal to San Francisco. These will be the longest races on record and the longest ever undertaken by power boats.

PROF. HARRY THURSTON PECK SUFFERS MENTAL COLLAPSE

Prof. Harry Thruston Peck, literary critic for many years and at the same time professor of Latin in Columbia university, has broken down. He is a hopeless mental and physical wreck. And just at the moment when there is nothing more left of the man whose literary criticisms caused a furore over the United States at various times in his career, his first wife, from whom he had been divorced and since which he has been the chief figure in a famous breach of promise case, has taken charge of him and will care for him while he lives.

Putting aside all differences which caused her to get a divorce five years ago, Mrs. Cornelia Dawbarn Peck went to Utica, where the collapse of Professor Peck came, and took charge of him. This was done with the consent of his second wife, whose financial resources are meager. She has taken him to her home at Sound Beach, Conn. The first Mrs. Peck has cheerfully assumed the task of nursing the former scholar in his reclining days.

ENTRIES FOR HOME INDUSTRY WEEK ARE COMING IN RAPIDLY

Merchants have responded generously to the call for window space for home industry week, and many of the large windows on Tejon street and Pikes Peak avenue have been volunteered to the committee for use in promoting the plans for that week.

More than 50 windows have been donated, and it is believed that many other merchants will offer the use of their windows. Chairman Ray Lowell, in behalf of the committee having this feature of the work in hand, yesterday submitted a report, and this, together with the report from the committee on manufacturers' exhibits, has been placed in the hands of the committee which is to have charge of the assigning of the windows.

It is the plan to place exhibits in windows of merchants carrying a line of goods entirely different from that displayed. This will not only add to the novelty, but will more strikingly call to the attention of local people the great variety of things made in Colorado Springs and vicinity.

Already more than 50 manufacturers have made entry. It is requested that any who have not been seen get in touch at once with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and arrange for exhibit space, as the allotment is to be made very shortly.

The committee on statistics also is desirous of completing the work of compiling data, and requests that this matter be given immediate attention by the managers of industrial plants who have not as yet replied to the letter sent out a few days ago.

The merchants who have placed windows at the disposal of the trade and industries committee for that week are:

WHILE BROKAW IS IN JAIL, WIFE FLEES EAST WITH CHILD HUSBAND KIDNAPED ONE YEAR AGO

Kidnaped the second time within a year, "Buster" Brokaw, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pierce Brokaw, now is nearing New York city in his mother's arms, she having taken the lad while her husband was in the county jail, on charges of assault preferred by his better half. Mrs. Brokaw left secretly Monday noon, and her husband was not aware of the fact until some hours later, when he made an effort to have her intercepted at Topeka, Kan., but having no warrant, the sheriff's office was unable to make arrangements.

Brokaw was able to secure his release from jail yesterday on bond of $500, signed by himself and his mother, who came down from Denver on hearing of his troubles. The case was to have come before Justice Dunnington this morning, but owing to the disappearance of the complaining witness it probably will be dismissed.

That his wife used fake bandages and pretended injuries as a ruse to get him in jail in order to take the child back to New York is Brokaw's statement of the affair.

"Mrs. Brokaw framed up this whole thing," he said yesterday. "Her fingers were not injured at all in any quarrel we had, and it is foolish to think that a little difficulty we had last Wednesday should have been postponed until Saturday for the swearing out of any warrants. Of course we had some trouble, and I protected myself when she tried to hit me with a stove lifter. She had trouble with some of the neighbors and received a scratch on her arm, but her fingers were not hurt. She had me arrested Saturday night so she could get ready to get out Sunday and leave Monday before court opened."

Brokaw states that he is glad that his wife has gone and that although he would like to have the boy, he will let the matter rest where it is.

Last May Brokaw quarreled with his wife and kidnaped his son from New York, bringing him to this city, where after several weeks of letters and newspaper interviews the couple came to an agreement in Colorado Springs. They lived here without trouble since last summer. Brokaw has been running an express wagon.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD MEETING TODAY

Reports of progress in the membership work of the Chamber of Commerce will be made at the meeting of the membership committee to be held at luncheon today at the Alamo hotel. Subcommittees and individual members have been working steadily, and as a result, the membership has received a substantial increase since the April meeting of the committee. At today's session plans for further work will be outlined and the active campaign continued.

In its latest bulletin, the membership committee uses the following as an argument to the nonmember to give the Chamber of Commerce his active support.

Are You a Real Worker or Only a Rooter?

Some people get out and "holler" while others take the responsibility and do all the work. They think they are entitled to just as much credit as those who assume the lead. But there is a difference. A good, loyal rooter has the makings of a first-class worker, but he must not delude himself with the belief that his rooting alone will accomplish many worth-while things. It is creditable to get out and wave a flag, or your arms, and make a big noise, whether it be at a baseball game or any other place where encouragement and enthusiasm is needed. The exercise will do you good and may help to give you a new view of things, but just stop and think how futile a few vocal or body gymnastics are as compared with the work of the men who are "playing the game."

PUSHING WORK FAST ON THE STRATTON BUILDINGS

Work on the first 13 buildings of the Stratton home at Broadmoor is progressing rapidly, and Contractor J. J. Cooke is ahead of his schedule. The brick work on most of the two-story buildings is nearing completion, and the brick work of the cottages is practically finished. About 50 men are employed on the grounds.

EXECUTIVE BODY STATE GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION MEETS IN SPRINGS TODAY

The executive committee of the Colorado Good Roads Association will hold a meeting this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Among other matters of importance to be brought up is the question of placing uniform guide signs throughout the state at all important crossings.

The executive committee of the association is composed of Leonard E. Curtis, Colorado Springs; C. R. McLain, Canon City; Dr. F. L. Bartlett, Denver; W. P. Barlow, Boulder; J. W. Deane, Aspen; W. S. Whinnery, Lake City, and W. L. Anderson, Pueblo.

WILL GIVE ANNUAL PLAY

The junior class of the High school will give its annual play tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and again Friday evening at the same hour in the auditorium of the High school, and the proceeds will be used for the expenses of the annual junior-senior reception, which is given to each year's graduating class by the juniors. Grover Kinney is student manager of the production, and M. J. Sweaney is faculty manager.

Work for a large attendance is being carried on vigorously by those interested in the production, and prizes have been offered for the sale of tickets. The junior boy selling the largest number will receive two tickets to the next road attraction at the Opera house, and the junior girl selling the largest number, a three-pound box of chocolates. A girl and a boy in the eighth grade of each of the city schools has tickets to sell, and of these the boy selling most will get a league baseball and a fine bat from the Powell-Doner Sporting Goods company, and the girl selling the most, a two-pound box of chocolates.

The play is "Mr. Bob," a two-act comedy, and the cast is as follows:

Patty	Mary Oldfield
Mr. Brown	Eugene Nifong
Aunt Becky	Roxie Soper
Philip Royson	Donald Graham
Jenkins	Grover Kinney
Katherine	Helen Hoon
"Mr. Bob"	Margaret McIntosh

Local Aerie of Eagles to Celebrate Twelfth Anniversary on Monday

Pikes Peak aerie No. 143, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will celebrate its twelfth anniversary next Monday evening with a big banquet in K. P. hall, for the members of the order. A large crowd is expected in addition to the local men, as they have invited the aeries in Pueblo and the Cripple Creek district to participate. Music has been arranged for, and there will be a good program at the banquet.

W. J. Snider, chairman of the committee on arrangements, yesterday received a telegram from W. J. Brennen of Pittsburg, Pa., grand worthy president of the order, who now is in California, accepting the invitation of the local aerie to be present Monday night. Brennen will arrive in Colorado Springs that day. Other grand officers also have been invited to the ceremonies but as yet no word has been received from them.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO PARK "LITTLE KANSAS"

President Miles Cook of the West Side Improvement society last night appointed a park committee to go ahead with the work of eliminating "Little Kansas." County Judge W. P. Kinney has accepted the chairmanship of the committee, and D. S. Gilmore and William Norton are the other members. The committee will work along the lines recently announced, and it is the desire to make "Little Kansas" one of the beauty spots of Colorado Springs instead of an eyesore.

EVANS SERIOUSLY ILL

George D. Evans, who has been tried twice recently in the district court for perjury and still has the charge hanging over him as a result of his marriage to Miss Eleanor Fitts of Manitou, last July, is seriously ill at St. Francis hospital, where he was taken from the county jail yesterday morning by order of County Physician Brown. Evans still is partially unconscious. But he was reported from the hospital last night as somewhat improved.

Evans underwent an operation for appendicitis at the hospital recently, but rallied and appeared to be recovering. His condition improved so much that he was taken back to the jail, but he had a hemorrhage a few days ago. This was followed by others, and Evans grew worse rapidly. His relatives in the east have been notified of his illness.

The English government is planning to provide scholarships and other aids which will make possible a university education for every boy or girl who makes a certain standard.

REALTY MEN HOLD LAST MEETING OF THE SEASON

The real estate division of the Chamber of Commerce held its last meeting of the season at the Alta Vista hotel yesterday. A luncheon was served at 12:15 o'clock. No business of importance was transacted, and it was decided to hold no more meetings until September.

YSAYE, THE MAN

In a beautiful villa at Godeene, just outside of Brussels, the great Ysaye spends his summers, surrounded by the greatest artists of Europe who, by spending the summer there, hope to get at least one lesson from him. On one occasion, his birthday, 35 of his pupils (who by the way are devoted to him without exception) gave him a surprise party. His wife aided the conspirators and at the appointed time, the 35 fiddles played Ysaye's favorite folk song. This pleased him so that he wept like a child.

He not only directs but owns the Philharmonic orchestra, is a fine pianist, composer and a man so thoroughly schooled in music that no one should let this opportunity pass without hearing such a remarkable person.

STATE COUNCIL

rado Springs, they can be assured of a royal welcome on the part of local residents.

Election Today.

The session will resume work this morning at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 9 o'clock. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and a national representative will be named to attend the meeting of the national council in Fabyon, N. H., June 24.

The Colorado state council is working hard to bring the next meeting of the national council to Colorado Springs, and the delegates elected at the meeting this morning will be instructed to work to this end.

Tonight at 8 o'clock a class initiation will be held in G. A. R. hall, and this will close the session.

The order, a purely patriotic organization, was founded just 60 years ago by a party of mechanics at Georgetown, Pa., its purpose being the suppression of undesirable foreign immigration. Georgetown was one of the principal landing places for foreigners, and on their arrival they would go to work for much lower wages than were paid the Georgetown mechanic. This threw the native inhabitants out of work, and it was for this reason that the Jr. O. U. A. M. was organized. The order also takes great interest in school matters and questions of various kinds. It now numbers almost 300,000 members.

COLORADO'S FIRST WOMAN MAGISTRATE HOLDS COURT

Justice is tempered with mercy in Colorado City, but that does not argue that anyone can slide by justice. Mrs. May Ammerman, the new police judge, held court for the first time in her official career yesterday morning, and released without punishment two of the three men that were brought before her. But the first man up in court was fined and had to pay the costs in the case, although he declared he would not. He was E. E. Grubb, who was fined $10 and costs for drunkenness.

The scene opened with Mrs. Ammerman nervous; it was her first attempt, and she was afraid she wouldn't do the job right. Then she regained her composure and spoke to the prisoner at the bar.

"You are charged with being drunk on the streets last Saturday. Do you plead guilty?"

The prisoner was frank about the matter. "I am guilty, your honor, but the police arrested me while I was trying to get home." That was where the sliding by justice part didn't come in, for the judge replied:

"That is no excuse. I think when a man gets drunk he should be punished for it, and I am going to fine you $10 and costs, as I understand there was more to your misconduct than you have stated." The prisoner at this point was unwilling, but the judge was firm.

"I will pay the fine, but not the costs," said Grubb.

"The costs are to be collected along with the fine," replied Mrs. Ammerman, and they were, for Grubb had put up a $20 cash bond with the court for his appearance, and the fine and costs, amounting to $14, were taken from it. Mayor Faulkner then asked Grubb if he would tell where he got the whisky, but the latter refused flatly and left the court room.

One of the other cases was that of Ralph Richards, a huckster, brought into court for peddling without a license. He was told to take out a license, which will cost him $25, and was released. The other prisoner, Charles Hayes, was up for drunkenness. He was fined $25, but the fine was remitted and he was released on condition that he get out of town at once and for good.

CHILD IS FOUND AFTER SEARCH OF FOUR HOURS

The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hicks, 1017 Jefferson avenue, Colorado City, went out into the yard at noon yesterday to play, wandered off, and was found four hours later at the home of J. R. Thrasher, 203 Jefferson avenue, nine blocks away. In the meantime the Colorado City police and most of the people in the neighborhood had been searching for her, for a big irrigation ditch runs near the Hicks home and it was feared that she had fallen into it. About four feet of water was running in the ditch when the child was lost, but the water was shut off and the ditch drained as quickly as possible in the search for the child. Hicks works at the street car barns in Colorado Springs.

JACK JOHNSON FOUND GUILTY OF CHARGES

Maximum Penalty Is Five Years Imprisonment and Fine of $10,000

CHICAGO, May 13.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight prize fighter, tonight was found guilty of violating the Mann law in transporting Belle Schrieber from Pittsburg to Chicago in 1910. He was convicted on all seven counts in the indictment. The jury returned its verdict after an hour's consideration.

The maximum penalty under the finding is five years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both.

A motion of Assistant District Attorney Harry Parkin that Johnson be ordered confined in the county jail was overruled by Judge Carpenter and the negro was released on bond of $10,000. A motion for a new trial was filed at once by counsel for Johnson and arguments on the motion were set for May 19.

Four ballots were taken by the jury tonight, the first showing four jurors for acquittal and eight for conviction. James Bruce, a grain dealer of Marseilles, Ill., was foreman of the jury.

Two counts of the indictment were dismissed yesterday at the request of Judge Carpenter who declared that no good purpose could be served by airing unnecessary details of the relations of Johnson and the woman.

Lucile Cameron Johnson, his present wife, did not appear in the court room at the trial, his attorneys fearing the effect of her presence. Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the negro's mother, however, sat constantly at his side. Only a few persons were in court when the verdict was reached, as Judge Carpenter had ordered that "scandal fans" be barred from the hearings.

The suggestion of Johnson's golden smile which had been on his lips during the time of the jury's deliberations, faded when the clerk pronounced the word "guilty." Johnson sat solemnly in his seat until Attorney Parkin's motion that the fighter be taken into custody was denied, when he slipped quietly from his seat and made his way from the court room alone.

"I haven't a thing to say," he said. "My attorney will speak for me."

Editors of Suffragette by Process Elimination

LONDON, May 13.—In the fight against the government for a free press, the Labor party, after mature consideration, has decided to adopt a plan which is new to England but has been found effective by German Socialists in combating stringent press laws.

Should the government prosecute James Ramsay MacDonald for printing the Suffragette, he would be succeeded as manager by James Kier Hardie, who in turn would be followed by other labor leaders, until the government is forced to capitulate.

These two labor members of parliament announced yesterday their readiness to undertake the responsibility of printing the Suffragette.

LONDON, May 14.—The house office is considering the introduction in parliament of a bill providing for the recovery of compensation from the suffragette funds for damages suffered at the hands of the militants. The latest devices of the suffragettes is to sow the roads with nails thrust through pieces of stiff leather bearing a suffragette inscription with the object of puncturing automobile tires.

Another fire, due to suffragettes, occured at Folkestone yesterday.

The Daily Mirror asserts that a suffragette plot has been discovered to kidnap a cabinet minister, dress him in woman's clothes, and submit him to a mock trial.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting

There are but few depilatories sold. You think there are hundreds because you have used the same identical preparations under several different names. This is easily explained. Women stop using

So-Called Hair Removers

when they learn that they are harmful. Therefore, they can not be sold under the same name for any length of time. Then the identical, worthless, harmful concoctions are given new names and advertised again as totally different preparations to who innocently buy them over and over again under different names, and this will continue as long as women are so unwise as to experiment with unknown, so-called hair removers.

De Miracle

Has Stood the Test of Time

De Miracle has been sold as De Miracle for over eleven years, and its name has never been changed. It is acknowledged the world over by eminent authorities as the one safe, perfected hair remover, therefore it is the only depilatory you can use without experimenting.

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive, tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours.

Unidentified Man Goes Over Niagara Falls; Is Recovered

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 13.—The body of an unidentified man was taken from the Niagara river tonight below the American falls. The only articles of clothing remaining were shoes and stockings and a black tie.

GREAT SHRINERS PARADE HELD IN DALLAS, TEX

DALLAS, Tex., May 13.—More than 100 temples of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, were represented tonight in a brilliant parade, which included two score Arab patrols with their bands. Besides these, several thousand members of the order not in uniform passed in review before the imperial potentate, W. J. Cunningham of Baltimore.

The imperial potentate made his formal report today at the first business session of the conclave. He reported a membership of 185,446, a net gain for the year of 12,790, divided among a total of 133 temples. The imperial council had funds on March 1 of $114,421.

Five men are candidates for outer guard, the only contest in the elections to be held tomorrow. The other officers succeed those immediately above them and it is assured that Imperial Junior Potentate W. W. Irwin of Wheeling, W. Va., will become imperial potentate. Tomorrow, the 1914 meeting place will be selected. Memphis and Atlanta are the only contenders.

This afternoon more than a hundred of the newspaper men among the visitors were guests of the Dallas Press club at a "klatsch."

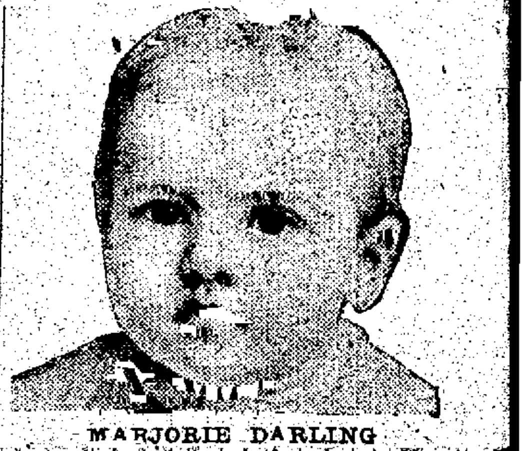
Foods That Bind Little Children

Start Them Off Right with a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Diet

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Darling, R. F. D. No. 4, Belleview, Pa., who writes: "I certainly think Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin saved my baby's life. Marjorie is a bottle baby and could not get her food to digest, but I found by giving her a small dose of Syrup Pepsin when she had colic it always cured her." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.



MARJORIE DARLING

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS IN SPORT CIRCLES

NEW YORK FANS CAN SEE NOTHING BUT GIANTS AS WINNERS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

McBeth Thinks McGraw's Team Will Repeat and Gives Rivals Only an Outside Chance

By W. J. MACBETH.

NEW YORK, May 13.—In the estimation of New York fandom this big town is reasonably certain of a share of the next world's championship games. No one who has seen the Giants perform around these parts is ready to concede any other rival more than an outside chance against the two-time champions of the National league. It may be sectional prejudice, for under Johnny Evers the Cubs have gotten away to an advantageous start for a club that was heretofore a slow breaker, but strange to say Chicago is no longer able to inspire with the same fear. The answer is the absence of the Peerless Leader.

The Cubs have always been full of surprises for New York and may be again this season. More will be known of this after the Keystone King's men-at-arms have had a chance to sift through the eastern wing of Tom Lynch's domain. If the Windy city array is able to win against Philadelphia and Brooklyn with the same marked regularity that they have been cleaning up on western neighbors, then it will be high time for John McGraw to shovel on more coal. From this long distance angle it strikes one that Chicago's fine showing has been the result of poor opposition rather than individual club brilliancy. In support of which a few arguments will hereby be presented.

Western Teams Weak.

In the west Chicago has encountered practically no opposition. Cincinnati and St. Louis have shown a straw defense. Pittsburg, generally accredited pennant prospects at the start, was wrecked and broken when the mighty Hans Wagner and the reliable George Gibson went down in a heap. It is an easy matter for even a fair team to beat out crippled or sadly disorganized rival aggregation. Now the Giants on the other hand have battled neighbors that shape up far stronger than for the last several seasons. With the exception of Boston, a tail end aggregation whose showing does not suffer in comparison with that of Cincinnati, the contests have been such as to call forth championship play day in and day out.

Philadelphia and Brooklyn both appear better balanced than in years and from what they have shown must be reckoned for first division berths. Philadelphia and Brooklyn have both displayed real pitching; pitching of far greater class than Chicago has yet encountered. Chicago's pitchers have been winning right along with five and six runs scored against them. This speaks for the hitting powers of Evers' line but in the same breath insinuates box weakness on the part of the rivals. In New York's game the scores have been much more limited proving better pitching and all round baseball qualities.

If against eastern battery strength the Cubs are able to rip off seven or eight runs a day then indeed should the Chicago Cubs be hailed with due acclaim. They will indeed be a great shadow to the pennant prospects of the Giants. But I do not think the team exists that can consistently tear loose even an average of four runs against such boxmen as Seaton, Alexander, Mathewson, Tesreau, Marquard, Rucker, Allen, and such shapshooters. Certainly New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn may expect to score as frequently against the Cubs as have St. Louis, Pittsburg and Cincinnati. In which case, limiting the score as the good eastern pitching should, the Windy city tribe is most liable to find tough sliding on its first long travel. All of which puts it fairly and squarely up to the approaching eastern invasion by the west. We will have to await developments to get a proper line.

Says Giants Look Strong.

New York has reason to preen herself over the possibilities of a third straight pennant. To date the club has looked fully 15 per cent stronger than last season when the pennant was won in the first three months. That McGraw does not enjoy the runaway lead he did a year ago is due to the improvement of Philadelphia and Brooklyn, a happy circumstance that should help his cause greatly when Pittsburg and Chicago heave into view. Every department of the champion machine has been improved over 1912. George Burns, in left field, has rounded out a garden combination that will compare favorably with any rival. By the elimination of Devore, McGraw has suffered no loss in speed and has gained greatly in hitting power and ulterior defensive strength. By the same token the infield has been bolstered by Shafer. He is better than Fletcher in every department. Still McGraw's greatest is embraced in a new battery strength—a department which for years has been a constant source of worry to him.

Christy Mathewson, the greatest anchor man of his hurling corps for the last decade, has shown all his old time form and should have one of the greatest campaigns of his brilliant career. Marquard was late in reporting, but is almost ready to get in with all his accustomed ability. Wilbert Robinson says he is all right and none should know better. Tesreau has always been a hot weather pitcher. He is better now than any time before thus early in the race. Leon Ames, with a brand new spitball, has chased his "jinx" and stepped into his proper sphere at last. George Wiltse seems to have returned to his form of 1908. He should be equal to fine results with one game a week. In Al Demaree little Mac has corralled one of the season's finds, to all appearance. He has several other very fine looking colt tossers who should provide against any possibility of overwork to the veterans. As it stands today McGraw has undoubtedly the most effective pitching staff in his company if not in organized baseball.

Catching Staff Effective.

He need not hang his head when his catching corps is compared with any other. Chicago boasts a great pair of backstops in Archer and Bresnahan. But for all round effectiveness Meyers and Wilson will pretty nearly hold their own. The "Big Chief" has always been a rattling good catcher, subserious to injury and a fellow who will stick pretty close to .330. Hitters of this type are mighty scarce now-a-days when batting covers a multitude of sins. Wilson is a very much improved catcher and also a dangerous hitter. Hartley, the third man on the list in the estimation of John J. McGraw is just about the sweetest prospect he has ever seen.

Those greatest of all natural advantages—youth and speed—belong to McGraw by a very wide margin. He, too, possesses a list of candidates of such well-balanced ability that it is practically impossible to cripple him. His substitutes are just one little shade less formidable than the regular men. Now both Chicago and Pittsburg, while possessing in numbers as much reserve material cannot begin to vie in class. Nor are the regulars possessed of that vigor of youth that is capable of standing all the strains of a strenuous campaign. Take the Cubs. Clymer, Mitchell, Bridwell and Evers, have several times stood upon the brink of major oblivion the last few years. Clymer, a veritable "old man" was rescued from the minors when everyone thought him through as a major star years ago.

Pirates Under Handicap.

The great uncertainty of pinning faith to waning stars is best illustrated in the case of Pittsburg. The loss of one such man as Hans Wagner seems irreparable. The great "Flying Dutchman's" playing days have run their course. In his unfortunate fall he carried down with him the pennant prospects of the Pirates. Before Wagner and Gibson were laid on the shelf—let us hope it will be but temporarily in both cases—the Giants seriously regarded Pittsburg's opposition. Chicago has never received the same sort of respect. Pittsburg has a wonderful pitching staff. Chicago's corps is lightly regarded. There lies the answer.

Chicago may be the big surprise of the season. We will all know in a couple of weeks. But in the meantime we may look for better things in Brooklyn as some consolation should the Cubs slip one over. Mr. Dahlen at last appears to have rounded out a real first division pocsibility. There should be no small grain of comfort in that.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Pittsburg met with its seventh straight defeat in the east when Magee won today's game here for Philadelphia with a home run drive into the left field bleachers in the eighth inning. The final score was 5 to 4. The visitors twice held the lead and they tied the score in the eighth inning on Carey's single and Wagner's double. Home runs played a big part in the event. Miller's four bagger put Pittsburg in front in the second inning and home runs by Cavath and Magee took the lead from the visitors in the sixth and eighth sessions.

BROOKLYN, 9; CINCINNATI, 3.

BROOKLYN, May 13.—Brooklyn took its third straight game from Cincinnati today, nine to three. The visitors got a lead of three runs in their first two innings by batting Allen hard, but Curtis held them runless the rest of the way. Brooklyn fell on Fromme's pitching in the second and scored six runs on seven hits, a pass, two steals, a wild pitch and an error.

That was enough to win but they knocked Fromme out of the box in the fifth when two singles and Fisher's long triple scored two more runs. Betts, a semiprofessional from Cincinnati, finished the game and allowed but one hit. Fisher's second triple on which he scored with the help of Miller's sacrifice fly. A sensational one-handed catch by Bates of Daubert's line drive against the right field wall was a feature.

St. Louis scored one run in the fourth and tallied three more in the fifth on three singles and a triple. Boston scored its three runs in the fourth when, after two men had singled, Mann hit to left field. The ball got by Magee and all three Boston runners crossed the plate. Boston got two men on bases in the ninth with one out, but a pop fly and a strikeout ended the game.

NEW YORK, 8; CHICAGO, 2.

NEW YORK, May 13.—New York easily defeated Chicago here today by 8 to 2. Toney, the first Chicago pitcher, went well for two innings, but the champions hit him freely in the third, fourth and fifth. Clymer batted for Toney in the seventh and Reulbach, who finished for Chicago, was hammered even harder than his predecessor.

Tesreau for New York, was a trifle wild, but steadied in the pinches. He struck out Zimmerman, the Cubs' heavy hitter, three times. The locals were speedy on the paths, stealing six bases on Archer and Bresnahan. In four times up, Meyers got two singles and a double and drew a pass. Merkle hit two triples and a single.

RICHARDS AND VICTOR COMING TO ZOO SUNDAY

Tom Richards, the crack Tiger box artist last spring, will do the twirling for the Victor Monarchs when they play the Zooz here next Sunday, and Dick Johns, the High school catcher last year and Richards' old battery mate, will be at the receiving end. Richards was expected to play with Rockvale last Sunday, but decided to stay with the Victor team, which is rapidly being organized into one of the best in the state.

The gold camp team will also have Dick Ackley, former Zoo twirler, and Nelson, who tried out with the Zooz this spring, to step into the box in case the menagerie aggregation should get too familiar with Richards' offerings. The Victor team also includes Gillstrom, a Zoo player of three years ago, and will have a strong lineup. A large excursion of rooters will accompany the team.

ST. LOUIS, 7; WASHINGTON, 6.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—St. Louis won an exciting game from Washington today, 7 to 6. After St. Louis had a five-run lead in the third inning, Washington tied the score, owing to Hamilton's wildness and some fine base running. St. Louis scored four runs in the second, when Cashion filled the bases with walks and Agnew tripled and scored on a double steal. A base on balls and a double by Austin scored a run for St. Louis in the third. Washington tied the score in the fourth on singles by Schaefer and Milan, an error by Williams of Laporte's fly, two bases on balls, single by A. Williams, who batted for Engel, and a double steal by McBride and Williams, all of which netted five runs. G. Williams' safe bunt, an error and Pratt's single scored a run for St. Louis in the fifth.

Washington again tied the score in the sixth on singles by Morgan and Shanks and an out. St. Louis won out in the seventh on a single by Williams, Pratt's double, a base on balls and Wallace's infield hit.

The locals scored their only run off O'Brien in the fifth, when Moriarity doubled and came home on Vitt's single. Boston won the game in the first inning by, through a single by Hooper, an error, Yerkes' double and Gardner's sacrifice fly. Lake, who relieved Mullin, gave way to Zamloch in the eighth and the recruit kept the champions from crossing the plate. In the second Cobb made two attempts to steal home. Girls May Box With Protectors

A HARD RIGHT HOOK TO THE STOMACH, WHICH DIDN'T JAR VICTIM.

Guy Otis Brewster is going down in history as the friend of every athletic young woman, every suffragette who insists she is man's physical and mental equal. He has shown them how to learn to box and won the approval of former teachers who disapproved this exercise for young women. He has invented a mask for the head so beauty won't be marred by hard blows, and one for the chest and stomach, so there will be no danger from body punches.

Mr. Brewster is the physical instructor of public schools in Wharton, N. J. Long ago he was convinced that boxing, one of the finest of exercises for men, ought to be made possible for women. He constructed his masks and has introduced them among the pupils. The result has been that the brothers are more careful in Wharton what they say to their sisters. Most sisters pack about right and left hooks and swings and a hard right upper cut.

To prove his success, Mr. Brewster got several of his pupils to give a demonstration before a meeting of the Physical Education society. The girls fought vigorously. They swung with right and left to body and jaw, and uppercut with all their vigor. Blows which taxed their strength fell harmless on the wire protectors and the victims only laughed and plunged in for more. It was a revelation and the teachers, those of them who were not incurably conservative, at once indorsed the Brewster plan. As a result it may be introduced in many schools throughout the country.

Lincoln to Play Zooz

For the first time in years, the Lincoln club of the Western league is to play in this city, when it meets the Zooz on Wednesday, May [illegible] today. Arrangements for this game were concluded last night by Manager Gail of the Zooz. May 28 was Lincoln's only open date, and it will be the first of the Western league teams to come to Colorado Springs this season. Lincoln will be followed on July 17 by Topeka, and Gail is negotiating with other clubs of the league for games with the Zooz in this city.

The game with Lincoln will bring out the best baseball seen in these parts in a long time. Gail will have Healy, who was a star in the Western league last year, in the box, and for that game will strengthen his infield with one or two new men. His team should be playing in midseason form that day, according to all the dopesters, and should keep Lincoln on the jump.

FROG LEGS BREAKS RUNNING RECORD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—Frog Legs, a 4-year-old colt, broke a world's record for running horses when he ran a mile and 20 yards at Churchill Downs in the third race today in one minute and 39 seconds flat. The impost was 107 pounds and Jockey Peak was in the saddle. The former record was 1:39 3-5, made by Colonel Ashmeade, carrying 103 pounds at Churchill Downs, October 5, 1911.

Of the five horses in the race, Frog Legs got off fourth to Buckhorn, Rudolfo and Billy Collins with Cousin Puss trailing. It soon developed into a race between the first three horses named and Frog Legs, under a terrific drive, won by a neck from Buckhorn with Dudolfo two lengths back. Frog Legs is owned by J. W. Schorr and is a son of Masette out of Frogmore.

CHAFFEUR ROTHGEB HAS ANOTHER MACHINE TO OIL

Shades of Barney Oldfield, Ralph De Palma, Hughie Hughes, Teddy Tezlaff, and the whole crew of auto racers!

It's now Chauffeur Rothgeb. Rothy has become the owner of a new Buick auto and in addition to keeping his Tiger baseball and track machines well oiled and in smooth running order, will now have to keep his joy car in good trim.

Rothgeb was the [illegible] coached yesterday morning when a mechanic gave him pointers on the car and it left a considerable impression on him as shown in his coaching of the ball team yesterday afternoon.

Carburetors and the double steal got mixed once or twice, the coach shouted to a base-runner on one occasion to "take it on low." Pitchers couldn't get their automatic starters started and the catcher's whip became a spark plug.

However, Rothgeb got considerable work out of his crews as well as his car and enjoyed both, especially the car.

GETTING AMERICAN TEAM READY FOR AUSTRALIA

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The organization and dispatching of an all-American track and field team to go to Australia next winter has been placed in the hands of the Pacific branch of the Amateur Athletic union, according to a letter received by John Elliott, president of the Pacific branch, from Secretary James E. Sullivan of the national organization.

Invitations to join the team have been extended to Abel Kiviat of the New York Irish-American Athletic club, one of the world's greatest distance runners, and Platt Adams of the New York Athletic club, who was among the first place winners at the last Olympic games. A sprinter and a hurdler and possibly a weight man will be selected later.

The first meet in Australia is set for December 26.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

PORTLAND DOWN TO WATER LEVEL AGAIN

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 13.—After sinking 83 feet from the 1,500-foot level on its No. 2 shaft, the Portland Gold Mining company caught up with the water level, and for the present operations are suspended. The water is now receding at the rate of about eight feet a month, and Manager Frank Smale and the engineers figure that they will be able to get down to the seventeenth level by next April. It is the intention of the company to sink 150 feet from the sixteenth level before cutting the station for the seventeenth, and this will be the only level in the mine more than 100 feet below its predecessor. The work of sinking will not be resumed until this fall. The ore body on the 1,600-foot level is so large that the management deemed it best to sink so as to have 150 feet of stoping ground, thus saving the cost of developing a level every 100 feet. If the ore body continues to go down below the seventeenth, as there is every reason to believe it will, the eighteenth can be opened at an equal distance and 200 feet will be gained in two levels.

On a regular tour of inspection the five directors of the company came to Victor today in an automobile. During the summer months they visit here each month, but not as often during the winter. They have no special work under consideration. It has been decided not to increase the dividend rate until the new levels can be developed.

SOUTH BURNS STEAMED UP AGAIN; LEASES LET

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 13.—After being closed down for several months the South Burns shaft of the Acacia estate, on Bull hill, has been steamed up by the company with K. MacKenzie in charge. It is the plan of MacKenzie to lease the mine out in blocks and, until the leasers are able to handle the hoist on their own account, the company will manage it.

It is declared that some likely looking prospects are to be found in this shaft. It has produced heavily in the last few years, and in some of the veins a rich grade of ore was found. The South Burns shaft was last operated by the South Burns Mining company, of which Charles N. Crowder was president and general manager. In the last year that it was worked by that company an extensive plan of development work was undertaken and completed, which resulted in the opening of a new body of ore at depth. It was stoped out. Several leases have been let.

In a few days the North Burns shaft will be steamed up. It has been closed down for repairs, but these have been made. Shipments should begin immediately. During the last two months very good ore has been mined in this property. It is declared that the main Johnson vein has been found at a new depth, from which a smelting grade of ore has been mined.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, May 13.—Absence of foreign demand, combined today with bumper crops ahead, deprived wheat of strength. The close was weak, ⅛ to 1c under last night. Corn finished ⅜ to ⅝@¾c down and oats off ⅜@½ to ⅞c, but provisions unchanged to 25c higher.

Bears ruled wheat from the start. The break in prices was only checked through extensive purchasing on the part of a group of big houses. Greatest weakness developed after the receipt of telegrams from the seaboard announcing that in addition to there being no export inquiry whatever, resellers were active abroad at two cents under the offers from here.

Rains in western Kansas were reported today as having supplied sufficient moisture to carry the wheat crop to harvest. Ideal weather elsewhere and splendid crop prospects both foreign and domestic brought about selling pressure which increased notably in the last hour.

Primary receipts of wheat today were 365,000 bu.; last year 450,000 bu. Exports of wheat and flour equalled 746,000 bushels.

Decided increase promised in country sales to arrive next week pulled down corn prices. Reports from all quarters were favorable in regard to completion of planting. Illinois rains lowered oats. There was much unloading by rural speculators.

Commission house buying said to be for packers lifted the provision market. In the face of this influence, offerings became notably scarce.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 13.—The drift of prices on the stock exchange was upward today, and while the volume of business remained small and the movement was nothing more than a slow, creeping advance, the close of the session found not a few of the leading shares a point or so higher than at the close yesterday.

Speculation still reflected the reluctance of traders to commit themselves heavily on either side of the market. An important feature of the day's trading was the absence of selling pressure. Stocks were scarce and it was inferred that the market was again in a soldout condition which made the technical position comparatively strong.

The borrowing demand for steel in particular, was unusually heavy, and estimates of the size of the short interest in this speculative favorite ran quite large figures. Traders took advantage of conditions to force a rally at the expense of the bears, whose efforts to cover aided in placing stocks on a higher range.

Resumption of trading on the European exchanges, after a triple holiday, was of influence on this market. The effect of the more cheerful feeling in London was reinforced by moderate buying for foreign account.

Notwithstanding the firm undertone of the market, there was some further selling of stocks which have exhibited marked heaviness recently. Several stocks, including Pennsylvania and Jersey Central, touched new low records for the movement. Canadian Pacific was sold persistently, at one time falling back more than two points. Trading in Consolidated Gas was unusually active and that stock was one of the strong features of the list.

Bonds were steady; total sales, par value, $1,250,000.

United States 3's and Panama 3's advanced ¼c on call.

$3.50 Recipe Free For Weak Men

Send Name and Address Today You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3948 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free. Adv

WOOL

BOSTON, May 13.—The continued decline in values is the feature of the domestic wool market. The situation is regarded as unusually complicated as dealers hesitate to purchase heavily of the new crop with the tariff still an uncertainty, while the growers are threatening to make consignments unless bids are received. Unwashed Ohio delaine sold recently at 22 cents, the lowest in many years, while a lot of Montana half blood was transferred at 21 cents.

More attention is being paid to Texas wools and a good sale was made of eight months at 15c. Pulled wool is fairly firm, while the California product is very dull.

Training Outweighs Long Service

There is no better proof of this than the every-day scenes of long service, untrained employes at the beck and call of younger men who occupy the big positions because of their training. It's a case of Training vs. Long Service—with the odds in favor of the trained man.

Get out of the untrained rut. Mark and mail the attached coupon and let the I. C. S., of Scranton, tell how you can qualify for a better position. How you can protect yourself against servitude in your old age. How you can become an expert at your chosen line of work.

That the business of the I. C. S. is to Raise Salaries is shown by the monthly average of 400 letters voluntarily written by students reporting salaries raised and advancement won through I. C. S. help. No necessity for leaving home. No books to buy. Marking the coupon puts you to no expense and places you under no obligation. Mark it NOW.

10,000 POLICE TO AID WIDOW.

Mrs. William Heaney, widow of the young police officer who was slain while breaking up a gang fight in the heart of the district infested by New York gunmen. Young Heaney had been a member of the force only a few weeks when he met his tragic death. The couple had been handicapped by the debts usually incurred by an officer the first year he is on the force, and in order to help Mrs. Heaney out of her difficulty, the 10,000 policemen of New York have agreed to contribute $1.00 each.

AMMONS MAY VETO BOYCOTTING LAW

DENVER, May 13.—Governor Ammons today intimated that he would veto the bill by which the recent legislature sought to repeal the law prohibiting boycotting, picketing and intimidation. Labor leaders, representing 20 unions, waited upon the governor and urged him to sign the bill.

"Why open the doors again to turmoil and bloodshed in Colorado?" asked the governor. "Why take a step backward? I will not affix my signature to any law that seeks to remove restraint and would restore conditions to which none of us want to return."

Freight revenues for the nine months amounted to $14,072,406; passenger revenue, $3,953,775. Operating expenses were $12,777,744.

Deaths and Funerals

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of John E. McFarlane of Victor, formerly a student at Cutler academy and captain of the academy baseball team, who was killed in Tennessee Pass Sunday morning, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Masonic temple, under the auspices of Tejon lodge No. 104, A. F. & A. M., McFarlane having been a member of Victor lodge No. 99. The body will be buried in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may view it from 9 to 12 o'clock this morning at the undertaking rooms of Fairleys and Law.

Besides being captain of the baseball team, McFarlane was prominent in football and track athletics while at the local institution. He was the son of Duncan L. McFarlane, master mechanic at the Stratton mine at Victor. He and his mother were on Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 2, returning from a vacation trip to California. They had just left the dining car, Mrs. McFarlane entering the Pullman car and her son starting ahead for the smoker. A few moments later the train was stopped to investigate a jolting, and the trainmen found McFarlane's body. It is not known how the accident happened.

The funeral of Fred E. Craven was held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Fairleys & Law, the body being buried in Evergreen cemetery. The services were under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World.

Jesse R. Ayrault, aged 54 years, died yesterday at a local hospital. No arrangements have been made for the funeral. Ayrault was a mail carrier in Detroit for 18 years. He was a member of the Letter Carriers association and of the Royal Arcanum.
